GERMANS HURLED BACK IN ASSAULT ON SOVIET CRIMEA

BATTALIONS OF NAZIS ARE ANNIHILATED BY RUSSIAN MINEFIELDS

By the Associated Press

Whole battalions of German shock troops have been blown to pieces by mine fields in a strong attack on the Crimea, advices reaching London said today, and the Russians were reported to have the situation well in hand, after stemming two Nazi assaults.

German parachute troops used in the attack likewise were declared to have been annihilated.

In the siege of Leningrad, the Russians admitted that German armies were steadily increasing their pressure, despite colossal losses, but declared that a series of battles had hurled the Germans back from several advanced lines.

Soviet front-line dispatches late today said fighting near the ancient walled city of Novgorod, 100 miles south of Leningrad, was still raging, with Russian troops repulsing all German attempts to cross the Volkhov river.

The Russians abandoned Novgorod a month ago, and since then the Germans have given the impression that Nazi columns from that direction were pressing close in upon Leningrad.

Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, reported that Russian troops at one point on Leningrad's approaches had gained five miles and recaptured four villages.

Nazi parachute troops and infantry were reported continuing the assault on the Crimean peninsula, battering fiercely at Soviet lines stretched across the bottleneck Perekop isthmus, only five to eight miles wide.

The terrain was described as advantageous for the Russians, with numerous small lakes and marshlands forming natural defense barriers.

To the north, Adolf Hitler's high command reported that the destruction of four Red armies trapped east of Kiev was "progressing relentlessly," with the number of Soviet prisoners now standing at 492,000.

This claim followed an official Soviet denial of an earlier Berlin announcement that 380,000 Russian troops had been captured in the Kiev battle.

Calling the Nazi assertion "a fresh Hitlerite fake," a Red army communique reported: "The fierce struggle is continuing on the Kiev front."

The British radio, quoting a Moscow spokesman, said the Germans launched their initial attack on the Crimea Wednesday night, hurling tanks, mechanized infantry and a number of parachute troops into the assault after a heavy artillery bombardment.

"The Russians waited behind vast minefields," the account continued. "Whole battalions of Germans are said to have been blown to pieces.

"The enemy withdrew to re-form eight hours later. But they were caught in the fire of Russian long-range artillery from the isthmus and from the bay to the west of the isthmus.

"Just before noon yesterday, the German attack was renewed. One German infiltration was made in the Russian lines but it was soon surrounded and annihilated."

Strategically important as the site of Russia's great Black Sea naval base of Sebastopol, the Crimean peninsula would also provide a stepping-stone for a German thrust into the Caucasus oil fields across the narrow mouth of the Sea of Azov.

Coincident with this reported blow to Hitler's invasion forces in the far south, Berlin admitted that the Russians were attacking with mounting fury on the north central front, apparently in the vicinity of Velizh, 70 miles northwest of Smolensk.

Nazi military dispatches said great masses of Russian troops were storming German trenches on the east bank of the Dvina river but had been unable to break through.

Dispatches from the Finnish front around Leningrad said British aircraft had suddenly appeared against the Finns on the Karelian isthmus, with a number of Spitfires already shot down in air fights.

Finnish officers were quoted as saying that so far only Russian airmen had been identified in the wrecked machines. A Soviet com-

EX-TREASURER DIES

Hollidaysburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—William S. Aaron, 73, former Blair county treasurer, died last night after a long illness. Aaron conducted a furniture business at Altoona for many years. A Republican, Aaron served as delegate to the party's national convention in 1916.

Cousins Involved in Crash of Motorcycles

Altoona, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Four young men, all cousins, were injured in the collision of two motorcycles on a rural road 12 miles west of here last night.

John Longnecker, 20, and his brother, Charles, 19, both of Duncansville R. D. 2, were on one machine, and their cousins, Harold Longnecker, 21, and his brother Philip, 14, both of Altoona, were on the the other.

One cycle, coming out of a narrow road, crashed into the other. Neither driver knew the other pair of cousins was in the vicinity. Charles was the most seriously hurt, suffering a broken left knee.

FRENCH U-BOAT AT PORTSMOUTH

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—The heaviest known submarine in the world, the 4,300-ton Surcouf of the French forces, was disclosed officially today to be at Portsmouth, N. H.

The navy announced that the Surcouf, which was one of a number of French submarines whose crews decided to put in with the British after the fall of France, was in the Portsmouth harbor for repairs under the lend-lease act.

Also, the British submarine Parthian was reported at Portsmouth and the British destroyer Burnham, the former U. S. destroyer Aulick, at Boston, both for repairs.

The Surcouf is so big that it carries a small airplane along with 8 guns, 10 torpedo tubes and a crew of 150. It has a cruising

MODIFICATION OF NEUTRALITY ACT POSSIBLE

Administration Lieutenants in Congress Reported Today to Have Rejected Proposal for Outright Repeal in Favor of Revisions

UP FOR DISCUSSION

BY WM. B. ARDERY

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—Administration lieutenants in congress were reported today to have rejected a proposal for outright repeal of the neutrality act and to be ready to work instead for legislation making vital revisions.

The repeal proposal was introduced yesterday by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), a consistent administration supporter. McKellar, who told the Senate that the neutrality law established a policy which "no great nation like ours can indulge in," said today he had acted entirely on his own responsibility. He added he did not know whether the administration would approve complete repeal of the neutrality law.

One well-advised leader told reporters that McKellar's measure was not acceptable to the administration. He said the legislation recommended by President Roosevelt next week probably would follow the lines indicated Wednesday by Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee.

Connally suggested that the neutrality law be amended to permit the arming of American ships and to allow them to enter presently-forbidden belligerent ports and combat zones.

The Texas senator declared that some provisions of the neutrality

MYRON TAYLOR ON A SURPRISE LONDON TRIP

London, Sept. 26—(AP)—Informed sources said today that Myron Taylor, President Roosevelt's envoy to the vatican, and Mrs. Taylor were arriving in Britain on a surprise visit.

United States embassy sources made no immediate explanation of Taylor's visit but implied he would have conferences with Prime Minister Churchill. The length of his stay was not stated.

Taylor comes to England from papal conferences and talks with William D. Leahy, United States ambassador to Vichy, and Vichy authorities.

RELIEF GRANTS HIKED TO MEET MILK INCREASES

Harrisburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—Food allowances to 66,000 families on relief will be increased to absorb rising milk costs, the state board of public assistance announced, but the question of dealing with mounting rentals won't be decided until next month.

Provision was made by the board yesterday "to absorb any charges for milk in excess of 11 cents per quart and six cents per pint where such higher charges now exist or may result hereafter from rising milk prices," said Chairman Frank A. Robbins, Jr.

Families on relief are required by law to purchase a pint of milk daily for each child under 16 years old, and the cost is deducted from the weekly food grant.

Robbins said the increases would range from 30 cents to $4.20 monthly, depending on the size of the family and geographic location. Milk prices vary over the state, but virtually everywhere the charge has been hoisted a penny a quart.

The rental problem was discussed but was left for decision at the October meeting, the date for which was not fixed.

The board adopted this resolution:

"The assistance families hardest hit by the higher cost of milk in some areas as compared with others and by the general upward trend of milk prices are the families including numbers of young children, with many needs other than milk.

"In the judgment of the state board, no family, and particularly no family including young children, should be deprived of part of the cash purchasing power provid-

WILL HAYS TO BE CALLED BEFORE MOVIE PROBERS

Chairman Reveals Plans to Summon Czar as Willkie Charges That First Attempt is Being Made Toward Censorship

ZANUCK IS A WITNESS

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—Chairman Clark (D-Idaho) said today that a senate interstate commerce subcommittee intended to summon Will Hays, the movie czar, for testimony soon in its inquiry into alleged war propaganda in motion pictures.

Clark made this disclosure as Wendell L. Willkie, representing movie producers as counsel, charged that the committee investigation was "one of the first attempts in America to suggest to the American people what they should read or see."

The committee called Darryl Zanuck of 20th Century Fox as its first witness today and Clark said the time of Hay's appearance would be fixed later.

In a statement handed to reporters, Willkie asserted that there was no question that the American people "have welcomed and approved pictures which portray the truths and facts about Hitlerism."

"Unless the day comes in this country, as in Germany, when the public is denied the force of its own opinion and is compelled to witness praise for all that is contrary to its concepts of freedom and justice," Willkie continued "the

FUNERAL HELD IN WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt, still mourning the recent death of the chief executive's mother, arranged a funeral service at the White House today for the first lady's brother, G. Hall Roosevelt, who died here yesterday at the age of 50.

After simple services in the historic east room at 3 p. m. (EST) the president and his wife will accompany the body on an overnight train to Tivoli, N. Y., where burial will take place in the family plot.

Both services will be private with only members of the two families and close friends present.

Capt. J. C. W. Linsley, chaplain at nearby Fort Myer, was selected to conduct the White House rites.

ECONOMIC WARFARE TIGHTENS

New Board Headed by Vice President Wallace Further Centralizes Control By Taking Over Issuance of All Export Licenses in the $4,000,000,000-a-Year Foreign Trade of Nation

ADDITIONAL "BLACK LIST" IS ANNOUNCED

BY LLOYD LEHRBAS

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Economic Defense Board headed by Vice President Wallace further centralized control of economic warfare and kindred defense measures today by taking over the issuance of all export licenses in the $4,000,000,000-a-year foreign trade of the United States.

In line with President Roosevelt's order of Sept. 15 to "intensify the policy of preventing shipments to Axis-dominated countries," the Economic Defense Board began absorption of the State Department's division of controls, which heretofore has collaborated with the export control administration in regulating exports and issuance of export licenses.

Wallace's super-defense board already has taken over the previously independent and army-directed export control administration with the objective of integrating its functions into the broader work of the board.

The economic defense organization also issued a supplementary "black list" containing the names of 300 persons and firms in the other American republics to whom no more shipments of American goods will be permitted.

The 300 "black listed" firms have been added to the original "proclaimed list of certain blocked nationals" which contained more than 1,800 individuals and firms in Latin American countries. The names of 65 firms on the original list were deleted yesterday because "satisfactory corrective action" had been taken.

In announcing the original "black list," it was stated it was comprised of persons or firms "deemed to be acting for the benefit of Germany and Italy or nationals of those countries and persons to whom the exportation directly or indirectly, of various

DREAM HIGHWAY SCENE OF TWO MORE ACCIDENTS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Seven men lost their lives in western Pennsylvania accidents, two of which occurred on the Pennsylvania turnpike, yesterday.

Two Illinois certified public accountants, Glenn E. Patterson, 33, of Evanston, and Thomas J. Duffy, Jr., 30, of Chicago, were killed in a mishap on the turnpike five miles east of New Stanton. Their car ran into a high embankment, then backed down, throwing both out of the machine. They died of skull fractures and internal injuries.

A few miles away, John Crawford, 34, of Pontiac, Mich., was killed when his motorcycle crashed into a guard rail on the turnpike. Coroner H. Albert McMurray said he learned Crawford was going 80 miles an hour.

Carmelion Giancesco, 39, assistant track foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Middle Division, was crushed to death under the wheels of a shifting locomotive in the Altoona yards. He was the division's second workman killed in two days.

Webster X. Mostoller, Jr., of Friedens R. D., Somerset county, swerved a tractor to avoid striking a cow. His brother, John S. Mostoller, fell from the tractor and was injured fatally by a rear wheel.

Joseph Sorcer, 45, of Broughton, Allegheny county, was hurt fatally by a dynamite explosion in the Montour mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

A Beaver county man, James Mangan, 50, was killed in a fall from a bridge into Mudlick run

TRIAL OF ELDRED HOLDUP MEN IS NEARING CLOSE

OTHER INDICTMENTS

Erie, Sept. 26—(AP)—Three men, convicted to robbing the First National Bank of Eldred, Pa., of $5,311 last May 14, were sentenced today by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to terms of 25 years each.

Sentenced were John Edward Kern, 29, of Pittsburgh; Francis X. Spinley, 25, and John Simmons, 25, both of Buffalo. They were found guilty by a federal court jury after less than two hours' deliberation. The formal indictment charged bank robbery, jeopardizing bank employes' lives and conspiracy.

Judge Schoonmaker ruled that the sentences imposed on Spinley and Simmons should be served concurrently with 8 to 20 year sentences ordered previously by the McKean county court after their conviction on armed bank robbery charges.

Erie, Sept. 26—(AP)—The federal court trial of three men charged with robbing the First National Bank of Eldred of $5,311 neared a close today.

The defense presented a sole witness yesterday, Edward John Kern, of Pittsburgh, one of the defendants, took the stand to deny he was implicated in the May 14 robbery, contending he was in Pittsburgh with a girl that day.

Asked where he got the money found on him, he said he played the "numbers" May 8 and "hit" for $675. Kern claimed that because

ASK PRICE SCHEDULE RESTORED

Operators from District Whose Advances Were Disallowed by Office of Production Month Ago Contend Boosts Posted Were Not Inflationary Because They "Fulfilled Economic Purpose of Stimulating Supply"

PRINCIPAL ARGUMENTS PREPARED IN BRIEF

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Pennsylvania grade oil producers whose price advances were disallowed by the Office of Price Administration last month contended at a hearing today the increases were not inflationary because, chiefly, they "fulfilled the economic purpose of stimulating supply to meet an increased demand."

More than 100 producers, legal representatives and other interested persons, appeared at the informal hearing before deputies of Price Administrator Leon Henderson. They asked withdrawal of the price schedule issued by OPA on August 22.

The producers agreed in a prepared argument that inflation would exist if prices advanced to the point "where little or no additional supply was made available," but denied that situation was true of Pennsylvania grade oil. With an extensive exhibit of logarithmic tables showing production cost in detail, they sought to show an economic impossibility of financing increased production under former price schedules. Defense needs and generally prosperous conditions have increased the demand for their product.

The producers further denied the new price level was inflationary because it was "in harmony with general price trends for other basic commodities" and because "it would not be passed on to the consumer."

Spectators at the hearing included several members of Congress from the oil field, which extends into New York, Ohio, and West Virginia. They included Senators Guffey (D-Pa.) and Burton (R-Ohio), and Representative Jarrett (R-Pa.). Jarrett commented he thought the producers "have a just cause. This is the life blood of the district."

Fayette B. Dow, general counsel of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, opened the case for the producers and read some of the principal arguments from the prepared brief. Others prepared to speak included: Otto Wachli, Wellsville, N. Y.; Ralph T. Zook, of the Bradford, Pa., district, and E. O. Breen, Oil City, Pa.

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, the petroleum coordinator, said today a "factual inventory" had found a net surplus of only 5,192 rail tank cars available to haul petroleum to the Atlantic seaboard.

This finding sharply disagreed with a contention by J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads that 20,000 idle tank cars were available for operation in the oil emergency.

The survey Ickes quoted was made by the East Coast Transportation Committee of the oil industry.

The senate committee which investigated the oil situation in the

CIVILIANS JOIN IN THE DEFENSE OF SHREVEPORT

By the Associated Press

The trappings of war were added to besieged Shreveport today as fierce fighting between the Second and Third armies converged on this northwestern Louisiana city of 100,000 situated in the center of the gigantic war games' final round.

Civilian joined in the Second army's defense of Shreveport in mock seriousness, donning red arm bands and placing red V's for victory on automobile windshields. Machine guns and artillery were set up at approaches to the city and steel-helmeted infantrymen tramped the streets in full battle kit.

Meantime to the south, Lieut.-General Ben Lear's outnumbered defending forces fought a rear guard action, delaying the slow, steady advance of Lieut.-General Walter Krueger's huge Third army. Second army defenses were drawn in a semi-circle 50 miles south and east of Shreveport, from Center, Tex., to Arcadia, La.

The 100-mile line bristled with artillery and machine-gun nests. Anti-tank guns protected vital roadways and anti-aircraft weapons were posted at important bridgeheads to ward off bombing attacks and keep troop and supply lanes open to the front.

Secrecy shrouded main troop movements on both sides, but the Third army was known to be massing huge infantry reserves about 50 miles behind the front, supposedly ready to pour through any breach in the line torn by combined armored and mechanized infantry divisions. Where-

Daylight Saving Time Will Not Be Extended

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Federal Power Commission announced today it would not recommend the continuation, beyond Sept. 28, of daylight saving time in any region of the United States.

This decision was reached, Commission Chairman Leland Olds said, after a canvass of the power situation throughout the country and an analysis of the effect of summer daylight saving in the southeastern region.

The chairman emphasized that today's announcement did not preclude the possibility that a resumption of daylight saving or its establishment in other areas, might be recommended if circumstances warranted.

CHESS CLUB TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

On Monday evening at eight o'clock the Warren Chess Club will hold its second meeting of the season at the Biekarck music store.

Plans are under way to start the tournament for the county championship, to be held on the first Monday in October. Several already have signified their intention to participate.

Those entered to date include T. Van Velzen, of Amsterdam, Holland, who is now staying in Warren; Dr. Arnold Kippen, rapid transit expert; H. Sorensen, formerly of the Cleveland Chess Club; Lloyd Nollinger, checker champion of Warren county; Marcus Naylor, who won the title in 1937; Alton Blyler, high school champion; Rex Biekarck and John Erickson. It is expected that more will enter during the coming week.

An invitation is extended to all interested in the game to participate in the event. Those who are interested in learning the game are invited to attend the regular meetings.

Rex Biekarck will lead round table discussions once a month on the technical points and openings of the game. He will also include a short talk on the middle game, its importance and problems.

Matches will be held from time to time throughout the winter with chess clubs of nearby towns and it is expected that a most interesting season is ahead for all those who enjoy the royal game.

Sunday Schools to Hold Group Meeting In Starbrick Chapel

OBSERVANCE OF COLUMBUS DAY BEING PLANNED

At last night's meeting of Warren Council, Knights of Columbus, plans were made for a fitting observance of Columbus Day, October 12.

This year the twelfth falls on Sunday, and the officers and committee in charge have decided to arrange for a mass and communion of members, followed by a communion breakfast. The local knights will attend the 8:45 Mass on Sunday, October 12, and following a breakfast will be serv- by the Sodality in the school hall.

A program is being arranged for and as the principal speaker, John A. Redding, of Osceola Mills, past state deputy, has been secured. Mr. Redding is a speaker of no mean ability and those in charge of the event feel they are extremely fortunate in securing his services for the occasion.

Other important matters were acted upon at last night's meeting of Warren Council, prominent among them being degree work, to be exemplified upon a class of candidates in the very near future.

Tonight the K. of C. bowling league gets under way and promises to be most successful.

TIMES TOPICS

MEETING CANCELLED

Word has been received here that due to a change in plans, Judge Michael Musmanno, of Pittsburgh, who was scheduled to speak at the court house next Monday evening, will not be able to appear on that date. However, it is expected that he will speak here at a later date.

REPORTED ILL

B. P. Marsh is reported quite ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carl Tower, Warren R. D. 3, many relatives and friends will learn with regret.

FALL SUGGESTION

Leaves which are raked from lawns between the sidewalk and curb should be piled on the edge of the lawn and not pushed into the street, it was pointed out today by Police Chief George Haehn. The street department will then be able to take away the leaves. If they are pushed into the street, rain is likely to wash the leaves into sewers and interfere with the catch-basins.

COMPLETES SCHOOL

According to word received here today, Corp. Robert O. Carlson, son of Mrs. O. C. Carlson, 440 Conewango avenue, was graduated recently from the propeller course of the Chanute Field branch of the U. S. Army Air Corps technical schools at Rantoul, Ill. Carlson, who enlisted in the air corps November 4, 1940, is assigned to Mitchel Field, New York.

NEW CHEF

Announcement was made today that a new chef has been engaged by McCabe's restaurant, 242 Pennsylvania avenue, west. He is Elmer Dodd, formerly of the White Inn at Fredonia. Tomorrow the popular restaurant will have on the menu chicken and turkey dinners and also sea foods.

RELIEF PAYMENTS

Direct relief payments made to needy Warren countians during the week ended Wednesday show a decrease of $9 from those of the previous week, according to State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner. Payments for the week totaled $184, which was $737 lower than those of the comparable week of last year. Current payments required 111 fewer checks than those of a year ago.

WAGE HIKE ENDS STRIKE

Ending their eight-day strike, 45 employes of two chemical plants in Custer City, returned to work today under an agreement providing a blanket 25 per cent wage increase. The agreement signed yesterday, also recognized the Powder and High Explosives Workers of America, an AFL union, as sole bargaining agent. The plants are those of the Custer City Charcoal Milling Company and the Custer City Chemical Company.

TIMES TOPICS

DENTAL PREXY

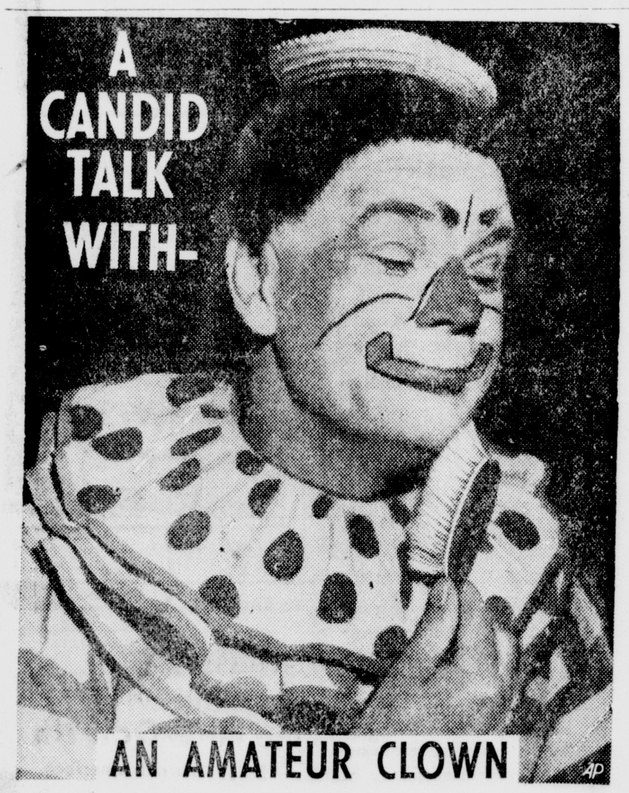
Dr. Fred Holstein, of Grove City, was elected president of the Ninth District Pennsylvania Dental Society in Erie Wednesday evening. He succeeded Dr. J. B. Balthaser, of Erie. The ninth district takes in Erie, Crawford, Lawrence, Mercer and Venango counties.

ACCIDENTS INCREASE

The Department of Labor and Industry reports that accidental injuries in printing, publishing and allied industries showed a substantial reduction in 1940. Among 473 firms including 143 newspaper publishers, there was an accident frequency rate of 9.74 and a severity of .43 in 1940, compared with 9.74 and .462 in 1939, the department reports.

DAMAGE AT ERIE

Considerable property damage was done by high winds, aftermath of a storm over the western plains, which swept through northwestern Pennsylvania yesterday. At Erie telephone poles and lines, trees and signboards were blown down and windows smashed. The wind reached a velocity of 65 miles an hour in sections of Erie county. Planes were grounded at the Erie and Meadville airports.



WHO HE IS

HARPER JOY, middle-aged and round of stomach, is vice-president of an investment banking firm at Spokane, Wash. He was on the stage three years before settling down.

For 50 weeks of the year he makes important decisions, tends to business and stays right at home. Then he hops into an airplane, joins one of the big circuses and becomes a full-fledged, mammoth-footed and big-nosed clown.

For two weeks he lives and travels with the circus. The other clowns—there were 50 of them in the show with him this year—help him on with his costumes and grease paint; they slap him on the back and say "Go out there and slay 'em, Harper." They even invite him to "pull a gag" in their own acts. This has been going on for 11 years.

Harper is married and has three young children. They don't go with him on his annual excursions but they always see the circus when it comes to Spokane.

"This has been a great circus year. I've had a lot of fun. People are war-shocked. On all sides, in their every-day lives, the war hems them in. It is a specter that hovers constantly within their minds.

"Naturally they seek a diversion that will take them for a moment from the shadow of unhappy things that are happening. Well, that's the kind of an audience that has come this year to the circus. They wanted to laugh till the tears rolled down their cheeks.

"They were appreciative. They applauded vigorously. The corniest kind of slap-stick brought laughs. As a matter of fact, the oldest and the simplest tricks drew the greatest applause. Of course we gave new twists to the old slap-stick stuff, but it was old stuff just the same.

"Felix Adler, perhaps the best known clown in the business, says he has detected the same sort of mood in the many audiences that he has clowned before in all parts of the nation.

"This appreciativeness and applause gives a clown, or any actor, a good warm glow inside himself and leads him on to pull all his best tricks out of the bag.

"For ten days this season I even forgot the war myself. I never listened to a radio; never looked at a newspaper, not even the financial section. It was great.

"You know, it's the gypsy life that attracts me. Playing in one town today; another 400 miles away tomorrow. I always am peering over the horizon and wondering what's on the other side.

"And, boy, the circus sure satisfies that gypsy urge!"

THE KINZUA RESERVOIR

Harry E. Anderson, senior engineer in the office of the United States engineer, at Pittsburgh, is quoted in dispatches as saying that despite rumors to the contrary there probably will be no work whatever done on the proposed $35,700,000 Allegheny reservoir at Kinzua until after the present emergency. He explains that under the Flood Control Act of 1941, Congress approved the project as a multiple purpose dam, both for flood control and abatement of river pollution, but that no funds of any sort were allocated for the work and it is not anticipated that any money will be directed toward the project during the present disturbed world conditions.

It was stated that when work finally gets under way it will take about three to three and one-half years to complete it, including the relocation of a branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, highways and resettlement of Indian reservations at Kinzua and Red House, the latter problem being up to the Department of Interior.

Anderson is quoted as saying that "it will be the largest flood control reservoir in the upper Ohio river basin, although the dam itself will not be particularly large."

The reservoir, when full, will cover an area of approximately 21,000 acres, extending from one and one-half miles below Kinzua, to Salamanca, N. Y., a distance of about 33 miles. Gross capacity has been set at about 1,250,000 acre-feet, which is described as an area of one acre covered by water one foot deep. It will be of concrete gravity type, with a controlled center spillway, and will be 1,792 feet long, rising to a height of 159 feet at what engineers describe as "reservoir full."

It is further explained that when work is begun on the project the first step to be taken will be preparation of a definite project report, outlining engineering features preliminary to design, which would call for a detailed survey of the reservoir.

GETTING ALONG BETTER

Sage advice is embodied in an article in the current number of Your Life Magazine by Alice Correll Hoffman. She observes:

You'll get along bettter—

If you remember that a man is as big as the things that annoy him.

If you try to do to others as you would have them do to you, and do not get discouraged if they fail sometimes.

If you remember that it is better to say something good about a bad man than something bad about a good man.

If you remember the Hindu proverb, "Help thy brother's boat across, and lo! thine own has reached the shore."

If you never meddle with a hornet or a man minding his own business.

If you remember that minds and parachutes function only when they are open.

To the officers and members of Warren Lodge No. 109, Loyal Order of Moose, we extend congratulations on the progressiveness they have displayed in installing four bowling alleys which are to be opened at their commodious building in Hickory street tomorrow.

One big headache at Internal Revenue Department headquarters in Washington is how to collect the new $5.00 automobile use tax. Latest idea is to do it through the federal post offices, so get ready to stand in line with a fiver in your hand for Uncle Sam.

Dispatches indicate that Warren escaped the worst of the tail end of the Texas hurricane that swept the east Thursday.

Wonder how many June bridegrooms in the county already have forgotten how to drive with one hand?

It just wasn't in the "cards" for St. Louis to win the National League pennant!

The old Allegheny continues to remain at rock bottom level.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—John Mulholland is as agile a trickster as ever reached into a sugarbowl and pulled out a rabbit. . . . His activities in legerdemain have included not only the business of baffling pop-eyed onlookers but extend even to the printed page. Magician Mulholland is an editor. He has a magazine called the Sphinx, devoted to the news and views of the profession.

Frequently he receives "subscriptions" from customers, saying, "Kindly send me the Sphinx for one year. My check for $2.50 is enclosed."

Only, the check isn't there. It's a gag that sometimes works, for editors have been known to add names to their mailing lists, hoping to collect later on.

The other day, however, Mulholland received a postcard from a reader who said his check was "enclosed" and would the magazine be forthcoming?

"Yes indeed," Mulholland wrote back—on a post card, "Enclosed please find first copy."

THERE used to be an old vaudeville gag, similiar to this, about the patron who wrote to a razor manufacturer in this vein: "Dear sir, please find my enclosed check for $5 for which you are to send me one of your Shave-Close special razors. PS: I forgot to enclose the check, but no doubt a firm of your standing won't mind a little matter like that."

The manufacturer replied: "My Dear Sir, we are delighted to receive your order and you are hereby notified that the Close-Shave Razor is included in this package; PS: We forgot to include the razor, but no doubt a man of your cheek won't miss it after all."

There is no telling where a variation of this yarn actually began. But there can be no doubt that people try to work them year after year. Mulholland has received at least half a dozen new "subscriptions" in which the "enclosed" check has failed to materialize.

IN a recent series on night clubs this column noted that the trend has been from "Hello Sucker" to "God Bless America." . . . This was an understatement. In recent weeks 90 per cent of the new floor shows have gone red, white and blue with a 48-star bang. It is almost impossible to walk into a supperclub without hearing a chorus of the Star Spangled Banner and the chorus girls likely as not will be dolled out in Uncle Sam uniforms.

Harry Richman has a song that well illustrates this trend in recreational patriotism. . . . The song goes something like this: "I saw my Uncle the other day . . . My old Uncle Sam. . . . He gets around. . . . He was holding back a flood on the Mississippi . . . He was building some new houses over in the slums for some people who needed houses. He was harvesting the wheat and sending notes of cheer to the oppressed." . . . It went on like that. . . . The response to this number, when ever I heard it, has been unfailingly great.

Hervey Allen's new book will be published in three volumes—all long ones. He, if you recall, is the author of "Anthony Adverse," which began the current trend toward length in modern novels.

Joffre's Stand at Marne Stopped Drive on Paris

MARSHAL JOSEPH JOFFRE, who commanded the French army from the outbreak of the war in 1914 until 1917, was criticized in many quarters after the war for his generalship and tactics. He was called "the imposing edifice behind which other brains conceived" and the "man who nearly brought France to ruin."

Joffre, who was honored philatelically in the 1940 stamp above, made no effort to defend himself. He wrote a two-volume book of memoirs but refused to permit publication until his death.

When he died in 1931, the book was released. Joffre critics were silenced in large measure, for it was found that the marshal operated under tremendous handicaps.

The French army in 1914 was still suffering from rigor-mortis caused by the disastrous war of 1870. Staff work was intolerable and the calculations of the war plans division proved poor.

Joffre, who was 62 at the outbreak of the war, is best known for his miraculous stand at the Marne, which stopped the German drive and saved Paris.

Peach Topsy Turvy Dessert

2 cups sliced peaches
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup water
1½ cups flour
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
½ cup milk

Mix peaches, brown sugar, cinnamon, lemon juice and water. Pour into buttered shallow baking dish and cover with rest of ingredients, combined and beaten 1 minute. Bake 35 minutes in moderate oven.

PIONEER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES AFTER ILLNESS

Death claimed one of Warren's oldest and best known citizens when August A. Riwa, of 8 West Fifth avenue, passed away at the Warren General Hospital at 1:45 o'clock this morning following an illness of six months' duration. He was aged 81 years.

Born in Warren, October 29, 1859, Mr. Riwa spent his entire life in this community. He was one of the last of Warren's citizens whose lives were linked directly with the early development of the borough.

During his early life he operated a wood-working shop at his home. Later he became a partner in the Riwa and Stevens Grocery, which was located at 228 Pennsylvania avenue, west. After Mr. Stevens retired from the business, Mr. Riwa conducted the business for a number of years. He retired from the grocery business about 25 years ago, after having been connected with it for about 20 years.

Following his retirement from the grocery business, Mr. Riwa was employed for a time at the Warren Furniture Company.

Mr. Riwa was a member of Warren Lodge, No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, and the Order of Maccabees.

He is survived by three daughters, Miss Ida Riwa, at home; Mrs. Earl Dorrance, of Warren, and Mrs. John Broderick, of Virginia Beach, Va. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. George L. Keller, Mrs. Bertha Meas, and Mrs. Imogene Gardineer, all of Warren; one brother, O. J. Riwa, of Mayville, N. Y., and one granddaughter, Joyce Dorrance, of Warren.

Funeral services will be held from the family home, 8 West Fifth avenue, on Monday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Edward Rogers officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

HOLD RECEPTION FOR MINISTER AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 26.—Nearly two hundred guests were present Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Methodist church dining room to welcome back for a second year of service Rev. and Mrs. Dwight Jack and Miss Dorothy Jack. Bouquets of flowers from local gardens were used in decoration and the tables were most attractive and all enjoyed a bountiful dinner with the closing course ice cream and cake.

The speakers' table was placed at the end of the room and among those seated there were two guest pastors and their wives Rev. and Mrs. Charles McIntyre, of the United Brethren church, and Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Johnson, of the Lutheran church.

Paul Getts acted as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Rev. McIntyre. Following the dinner a group of songs were sung under the leadership of Miss Lilly Wood. Mr. Getts spoke a few words of welcome, not only to the returning pastor, but to all guests present.

A vocal solo was sung by Donald Aberg and a clarinet number given by George Walters. Miss Reba Metzger sang a group of songs, including the "Lord's Prayer" set to music. A piano solo was given by Miss Janet Jones.

Greetings to Rev. and Mrs. Jack expressing the cordial welcome which is felt by all the church organizations and by the community were given from the following: The Sunday school, represented by Miss Goldia Hill; the choir, represented by Mrs. Mable Davis who gave her greeting, in rhyme to Mrs. Jack, who is the director of the choir. Mrs. H. H. Husted, for the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and Donald Haupin for the Epworth League.

After a solo by Miss Lilly Wood, Charles Briggs, one of the lay delegates, brought greetings from the recent annual conference in Meadville. Rev. Mr. Johnson of the Lutheran church brought greetings. Mrs. Johnson was also introduced and spoke briefly. Charles Spencer, speaking for the board of trustees, presented an electric clock as a gift from the church. Rev. and Mrs. Jack responded most sincerely. The program closed with singing and benediction.

Sheffield News

Sheffield, Sept. 25—Sixteen members of the Rotary Club, including one admitted to membership that day, were present at the regular luncheon meeting held Tuesdary noon in the Home Cottage Inn. The new member was L. O. Eisenhauer, high school principal.

C. H. Whittaker, local merchant, gave a talk on "The General Store", comparing and contrasting present day establishments with those of 20 and more years ago.

Glen Belknap, president, conducted the meeting.

BRIEFS

The W. Y. W. Club were entertained at a 7 o'clock dinner Monday evening at the home of Miss Callie Mead, of Warren.

Miss Maye Hooven entertained her club Friday evening at a six o'clock dinner honoring the birthday of Mrs. Edna Wood.

The Rebekahs are holding another bake sale and rummage sale next Saturday, Sept. 27th, in the rooms formerly occupied by the Ed Day shoe store.

There is no school in Youngsville Friday as the teachers are at county institute in Warren.

The high school band under the direction of Byron Swanson gave a half hour concert as a feature of the directors meeting held in the court house in Warren on Thursday.

Mrs. Florence Crispell is now spending a part of each week with her son in Youngsville. She is a former resident whose home is now in Jamestown, N. Y.

REBEKAH REUNION

The second reunion of Katherine Rebekah Lodge of this community will be held Saturday evening, Oct. 4, in the American Legion Home. The event will begin with a picnic dinner at 6 p. m. Invitations have been mailed to the members by Mrs. Ammie Andrews, secretary of the reunion association, and the response to date indicates that the attendance this year will better that of last year's inaugural reunion.

PERSONALS

Dr. Clifford Nelson, local dentist who several days ago suffered an ankle fracture in a fall, is able to be about and has resumed his practice. It will be several days, however, before the heavy cast in which the injured ankle is encased will be removed.

Mrs. John Evan and Mrs. Bertha Peterson, accompanied by the latter's mother and a lady friend, arrived home today from a week's vacation trip to Detroit and points of interest in Canada.

ARMY TAKES 51,380

The state Selective Service system, one year old, discloses it has inducted 51,380 men into the army in that time. The organization was set up before the first registration of men between 21 and 36 last October 16. Dr. William Mather Lewis, selective service head, says that volunteers have given more than 1,000,000 man hours of their time "to the service of their country."

Four new bowling alleys, recently installed by Warren Lodge, No. 109, Loyal Order of Moose, for the enjoyment of members of the organization will be formally opened at a special program to be held on Saturday evening and Sunday, it was announced today by officials of the organization.

The alleys, among the finest in this section, have been installed in the basement of the Moose Temple, Hickory street, at great expense and are expected to add much to the completeness of the facilities of the club for the members.

The new bowling alleys will be open for the inspection of the public on Sunday afternoon, September 28th, between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m., it was announced.

As special features of the formal opening, matches among several Moose bowling teams of the district have been arranged for the week-end. Eight teams will compete in matches on Saturday evening, with eight others to participate in Sunday afternoon events.

At seven o'clock on Saturday evening the teams which will com-

Heart Full of Gratitude

Mooseheart represents the greatest humanitarian service of the Loyal Order of Moose. Indeed, it is doubtful if any other organization equals its service to underprivileged children. The richness of its rewards in serving the needy is best shown by the fullness and sincerity of expression of appreciation from those who have benefitted by its services. Here is a typical letter from a widowed mother, who has lived at Mooseheart many years and has seen her family grow up to be good and useful citizens:

May 5, 1941.

Honorable James J. Davis
Director General, Loyal Order of Moose
Dear Mr. Davis:

This beautiful day makes me realize that spring and graduation are near. In the year 1924, you and our good Mooseheart Governors were kind enough to allow me to come and live with my family here, and what a lovely family you have helped me to raise. Jimmy is with a law firm in Washington and there are three girls working their way through college, Junior and Sophomore years: six intelligent children, who, without a doubt, would be out of school doing odd jobs to earn their bread and butter, had it not been for our beloved Moose Lodge. Surely no Moose need ever be afraid of death or the hereafter if he only had a part in rearing just one family like mine—but, there are hundreds of thousands.

My boy, the baby, who was one year old when he came to Mooseheart and just three weeks old when his Daddy died and left me helpless, will follow in the footsteps of the others and will continue his education after he has worked.

Mr. Davis, I love Mooseheart. Every blade of grass looks good to me. I have made some of the finest friends here and I am more attached to the people who have helped me raise my famliy than I am to my own people. My children thing of Superintendent Leinweber as a father. He certainly takes a personal interest in each and every child. Miss McDowell and the Dietician, Miss Bartholomew, have never told me at any time that my work was not done properly. I have been congratulated on various occasions. Nevertheless, I do not know what graduation will mean to me, whether I have to leave now or what the outcome will be. But I can say, thank you and God bless you. As for the staff, they are lovely to me and are the finest people I have ever met. Mr. Leinweber taught my children and many others in high school. He is an inspiration for any child to live by.

Jimmy tells me that it surely is a joy to meet and occasionally talk with Mr. John Meikle in Washington. Jimmy feels proud when he realizes that this fine young man, too, was a graduate of Mooseheart.

Aren't you proud, Mr. Davis, of the wonderful work you have done? We certainly are all proud of you and we Normans do thank God that He gave the world you, and that you inspired the world to build Mooseheart.

Pardon this long letter, but my heart is full of gratitude.

Sincerely,
MRS. BERTHA NORMAN,
A Moosecheart Mother.

Loyal Order of Moose

The Loyal Order of Moose was founded in 1888 by Dr. J. H. Wilson in Louisville, Ky. The first lodge was organized in Cincinnati. The Supreme Lodge is the governing body. The chief purpose of the order is social and there is no obligation to buy insurance or provide sick or death benefits, although these features are included. A home and vocational school for orphans and dependents of members of the order are located on a farm of 1000 acres at Mooseheart, near Aurora, Ill. There are more than 1,600 lodges with a membership of nearly 600,000.

HELD UP IN AUTO

T. L. Miller, Erie man, reported to police he was robbed of $291 early yesterday when two men flagged down his automobile on an east side street. Miller said the pair got in the machine with him, rode two blocks and then forced him out.

TO ATTEND SESSION

Loren E. Bidwell, local borough police officer, will be among eight western Pennsylvania policemen who will attend the annual retraining session of the National Police Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington during the week of October 6, it was announced yesterday. Chief Edward V. Edmonds, of the Bradford police force, will also be among the group.

TWO ARE INDICTED

Two officials of the EPCO Manufacturing Company, a South Bend, Ind. concern, were indicted by a federal grand jury in Erie Wednesday on three counts of a charge of using the mails to defraud in a sales promotion in which two western Pennsylvania men were purported victims. Worthe Haynes, president, and J. G. Ritter, general sales manager, were the officials against whom the indictment was returned. Harmon C. Smith, Meadville, and Louis C. Kepple, Wilkinsburg, were the victims of the fraudulent procedure.

World's Most Famous Graduating Class

On June 14, at the child city of Mooseheart, famed home and school for underprivileged children, established and maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose, one of the world's leading fraternities, a class of 72—47 boys and 25 girls—will graduate. This is the twenty-third graduation at this famous academic and vocational school. The total number of graduates is now 1,535. This year's graduates come from 25 states, and 1 Province in Canada. Illinois ranks first—11 graduates; Pennsylvania second—10; Ohio third—9, and Indiana fourth—8. The average age of the graduates is 18 years, 3 months, and their average number of years residence in Mooseheart is 10 years, 4 months. In addition to the high school diploma which each graduate will receive, a certificate specifying the nature of the technical, trade, or vocational instruction in the work in which he or she has been trained, is also given. Twelve trades and vocations are represented in this class. Certain of the graduates plan to enter higher schools of learning.

Home and School

The Moose Child City of Mooseheart, founded July 27, 1913, by U. S. Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, is an estate of twelve hundred acres, thirty-five miles west of Chicago. Title is in the Supreme Lodge of the World, Loyal Order of Moose. It is a home and school for almost a thousand normal children of deceased members of the Order. Instruction in about twenty trades, including agriculture, is given.

Mooseheart represents an investment of more than TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS. Its administration calls for an annual budget of almost ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

The educational concept of Mooseheart is to take full account of the needs and capacities of the individual child and fit the instruction to that individual, to the end that he may best adjust himself to a complex, changing social and physical environment.

Lowest Mortality Rate

Mooseheart's health service is primarily a service of preventive medicine. As a part of this service, Mooseheart has one of the most complete modern hospitals in the country, to which the children are admitted for observation and treatment. The health records of Mooseheart show that its mortality rate is lower than that of any institution of its kind in the world.

Mooseheart's dairy farm covers one thousand, one hundred and fifty-seven acres. Its maintenance is largely for the purpose of providing Mooseheart children with the necessary foodstuffs. Mooseheart's farm pays big dividends, both in the health of the children and in financial profit. It is considered to be one of the greatest farms in the State of Illinois.

SALEM CHURCH HAS RECEPTION FOR MINISTER

A largely attended reception was held last evening in the Salem Evangelical church to compliment and welcome the pastor, Rev. S. R. Schieb, who is returned with his family for another year's service in the local parish.

Ernest Huber, Sunday school superintendent, was in charge of a program which included devotions, two lovely poems read by Miss Ruth Ackert and a solo, "Bless This House," by Henry Baldensperger.

Greetings were extended by Rev. J. C. Wygant, pastor of the First Evangelical church, and O. R. Pang, who is Sunday school superintendent of that parish.

To conclude, Gust Ristau, president of the board of trustees of Salem church, presented the honored guests with a handsome coffee table from the group.

All were then invited to the social rooms, where refreshments were served from a most attractively decorated table.

pete are Jamestown No. 1, Gowanda, Salamanca and Warren. At nine o'clock the competitors will be Jamestown No. 2, Kane, Bradford and Johnsonburg.

Sunday afternoon's schedule, starting at two o'clock, will include teams from Erie, Titusville, St. Marys, Olean, Ridgway, DuBois, Clearfield and Conneaut, Ohio.

Construction of the new alleys has been one of the biggest improvement projects undertaken by the local Moose lodge in several years and is a credit to officers and members of the house committee who arranged the details.

Present officers of the lodge are C. D. Seekings, governor; J. E. Clark, junior governor; R. W. Nelson, junior past governor; H. P. Bearer, prelate; Harry Mintzer, sergeant at arms; Edward Stites, inner guard; Walter T. Kiser, secretary and club manager; Stewart E. Kuhre, treasurer; F. A. Yaegle, C. B. Mahood and Allen Wilson, trustees.

Members of the house committee are Gust Sandstrom, R. W. Nelson, Stewart E. Kuhre and Harry Mintzer.

The local lodge of Moose was chartered on March 3, 1910. There are eleven charter members of the organization still living. These include S. G. Anderson, Herman Kylander, E. E. Nelson, Ray Still, Harry J. Wilson, L. E. Engstrom and M. J. McMahon, all of Warren; W. S. Murray, of Kinzua; W. S. Thayer and A. Zeller, of North Warren, and N. L. Samuelson, of Akron, Ohio.

Rapid strides have been made by the organization since it was instituted and it is at present one of the leading fraternal organizations in this section. For many years it has been active in the civic life here and has been interested in the sports events of the community. The installation of the bowling alleys is additional evidence of its interests along this line.

Ceremony in Calvary Baptist Church Unites Inez Caroline Shellin and James M. Holmberg

Inez Caroline Shellin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Shellin, 517 Prospect street, became the bride of James M. Holmberg, son of Mrs. A. Holmberg, Beaty street, in a pretty candlelight service read at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in the Calvary Baptist church.

Rev. Martin Hamlin performed the ceremony before an evergreen arch that was flanked by palms and tall candelabra. Mrs. Frederick Olson, violinist, and Miss Margaret Blick, pianist, provided wedding music, playing "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin, "At Dawning" by Cadman and the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her cousin, Mrs. H. A. Backstrom, Jr., of Bradford, as matron of honor, and Miss Louise Courson, of Tidioute, as bridesmaid. The bride was lovely in a frock of white damasse, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long train, and her fingertip veil depended from a crown of seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet was of white gladioli. Mrs. Backstrom wore peach chiffon and Miss Courson's frock was of blue mousseline de soie. Each wore a Juliet cap and carried peach gladioli. Sandra Holmberg, niece of the bridegroom and little flower girl, wore yellow taffeta and carried a basket of Talisman roses.

H. A. Backstrom, Jr., was best man for Mr. Holmberg and ushers were Clarence Swanson and Atwood E. Drum.

Fall flowers were used in lovely decorations for the reception which followed in the church parlors. Table appointments were carried out with a large wedding ring of white asters and pink snapdragons and tall white tapers. The bride's mother received in a black and white ensemble and Mrs. Holmberg wore green, each with a shoulder corsage of white pompoms.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Olson and Doris Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Runquist, Norma Runquist, George Lininger and Miss Ethel Henderson, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Carlson, Janet Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nelson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brolin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gunard Danielson, Miss Constance Olsen, Mrs. Axel Nelson and Raymond Nelson, Mrs. Judith Lind, Miss Edith Oberg, Miss Mina Anderson, Miss Christine Frederickson, Miss L. Sampson, R. Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Walfred Peterson, Lakewood, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Courson, Tidioute; Mr. and Mrs. Iner Olsen, Carlton Olsen, Youngsville.

For a wedding trip to the nation's capital, Mrs. Holmberg chose an ensemble of nvy and white. After October 1, the couple will reside at 352 East Fifth avenue. The bride is a graduate of Warren High School in the Class of 1934 and Mr. Holmberg is employed by the Crescent Furniture Company.

Those who have entertained for the bride-elect are Mrs. Leroy Holmberg, Philathea Class, Mrs. H. A. Backstrom, Jr., Miss Louise Courson, the Misses Gaghan, Mrs. Henry Wyman and Mrs. Merle Gaghan, Mrs. Robert Nystrom, the Misses Mildred Schramling, Margaret Hughes and Florence Danielson.

First Methodist Woman's Society Observes First Anniversary in Very Fitting Fashion

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church celebrated its first anniversary Thursday and opened its second year with a one o'clock luncheon in Founders hall.

Mrs. F. A. Wood, Mrs. Alan Templeton, Mrs. Fred Schuler and Mrs. N. J. Andersen were in charge of serving the large crowd which represented all the women's divisions of the church.

The business meeting and program took place in Dunham parlors, Mrs. J. J. Garber conducting devotions concerning the Christian search for justice and peace. Mrs. E. H. Trushel sang an accompaniment to Mrs. Garber's reading of a lovely poem, "Our Church," and closed with a beautifully expressed prayer of thanksgiving and hope.

Mrs. H. L. Norris, program chairman, presented the speaker, J. H. West, home service secretary of the Red Cross, who invited the audience to take an imaginary trip with him to one of the army camps. He described in detail the daily routine of training, from reveille to taps, and emphasized the need of Christian guidance for the boys in the form of proper and convenient places where they may seek relaxation and fellowship. It was brought out that although the Red Cross has for some time been functioning as intermediary between the camps and homes, it now is successfully keeping open the contacts from home to camp. Mr. West closed his very informative talk with a plea to all to remember the boys in camp, for "they are our country's defense."

The president, Mrs. E. S. Briggs, reminded members of the impressive service which took place just a year ago when the Woman's Society of Christian Service observed "Charter Night" and began the task of reorganizing the women's activities which formerly were assumed by the Ladies' Aid. She spoke of the perplexities which confronted every officer and worker under the new regime and how fortunate the church was in having a pastor who had so familiarized himself with the smallest detail of the prescribed workings of the society that he was able to guide and counsel every step of the way.

In appreciation of the splendid cooperation from the pastor, Mrs. Briggs presented to Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Colley a silver tea service from the society, with expression of its pleasure at his return to the pastorate for the coming year.

Dr. and Mrs. Colley responded, after which the latter reported on the recent Erie Conference WSCS convention held in Oil City, to which she and Mrs. Briggs went as delegates.

Mrs. E. C. Christensen read an interesting letter, written in the form of a diary, from Miss Carrie Kenyon, missionary to Malay, who has just returned to the mission field after a furlough in the states.

The first anniversary meeting was concluded when Mrs. Briggs presented Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp to lead the closing prayer.

Last Graduates of Hospital Nursing School Guests

Members of the 1941 graduating class of the Warren General Hospital school of nursing, the last to be graduated by the institution under new regulations, were complimented last evening with a dinner-dance given at the Woman's Club by the Warren General Hospital Alumni Association.

These honored guests were Frances Vivian Anderson, Anita Jean Bush and Bernice Elizabeth Miller, Kane; Minnie Alva Anderson, Wilcox; Margaret Marie Arminini, Brandy Camp; Dorothy Catherine Craker, Buffalo, N. Y.; Ellen Jane Rosequist and Grace Mae Yeager, Tidioute; June Elizabeth Cogswell, Geraldine Harriet Martin, Dorothy Ella Patchen, Delores Alma Thompson and Florence Ruth Zimbauer, of Warren.

The dinner table was most attractive in the appointment of red and white, the class colors, using white candles and red roses, the class flower. Program-favors in the same shades marked the 75 places.

Miss Pearl Lund gave the invocation and a welcome to the graduates was extended by Mrs. Nora Eaton, president of the alumni group. Dolores Thompson, class president, responded for her fellow-members.

Mrs. Eaton then presented the alumni's award for the highest average in theory and practice for three years to Anita Bush. Miss Edith Atkin, hospital superintendent, spoke briefly, and greetings were extended by Miss Marie Robertson, of Jamestown, N. Y., at one time local superintendent; also Miss Veronica Stapleton, of Annapolis, Md., former directress of nurses.

Other guests were Mrs. Edith Bemis Carter, Mrs. Mabel McCray and Mrs. Mary Kibler, Corry; Mrs. Adelaide Sigworth, Tionesta; Miss Julia Anderson, Mrs. Ola Valone, Jamestown.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing to the music of Orrie Beebe's Orchestra.

Silver Anniversary Of Charles Songers Is Occasion of Party

Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Curt" Songer, of North Warren, gathered at their home last evening to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary.

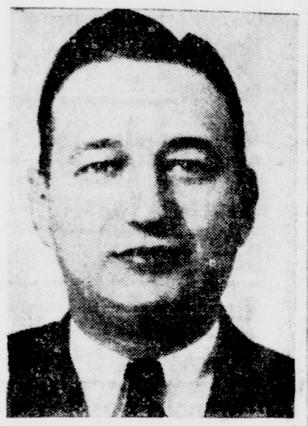
Among the guests were Mr. Songer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Songer, also of North Warren, who are each more than 80 years of age and have been married nearly 60 years. Also present were the four children of the couple, Beatrice, Sylvester, Charles and Jack.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Giltinan, Mr. and Mrs. George Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Erickson, Teresa Fagley, Jean Mauersburg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gearhart, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bednies, Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fults, Harry Songer, John Connolly, Miss Julia Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mrs. Lillian Simmons, North Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Werner, Russell; Claire Potter, Youngsville.

A pleasant time was spent in playing five hundred, with prizes awarded to the following: Mrs. Conrad Anderson and Carl Werner, high; Mrs. Walter Bednies and Ray Fults, second; Jean Mauersburg and Walter Bednies, low.

A delightful luncheon concluded the evening and the honored guests were presented with lovely remembrances of the occasion, these including several bouquets of flowers and a purse of money. Messages were received from a number who were unable to be present.

CHURCH REVIVALS



FREE METHODIST CHURCH YOUNGSVILLE

Revival services are now in progress in the Youngsville Methodist church with Rev. O. R. Tessaro, of Greensburg, as evangelist. Rev. Tessaro will be with us until October 5 and will preach each evening, and three times on Sundays Sept. 28 and Oct. 5 at 11 a. m., 3 and 7:30 p. m. Rev. Tessaro is a converted salesman and has had a wide experience in public life. He will give his life story next Tuesday evening. There will be an early prayer service at 7 o'clock in the Sunday school room every evening during the revival.

The public is cordially invited.

AT PLEASANTVILLE

Rev. L. A. Shindledecker, pastor of the Pleasantville Methodist church, has asked the Times-Mirror to announce that Gipsy Simon Smith, internationally known evangelist, will hold special services there beginning Sunday, September 28.

Gipsy Smith has been addressing capacity audiences in the United States and Canada for some years. He was born in a gipsy camp, has crossed the ocean 45 times and was at one time a London cab driver.

The Pleasantville church feels exceedingly fortunate in getting the services of such a well known evangelist and invites all interested persons from surrounding communities. Services will be held Sundays at 10:30 and 7:30; week nights, except Saturdays, at 7:45. The series will continue until October 12.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), meanwhile, told reporters that he favored either complete repeal or substantial modification of the neutrality law.

Bridges said, however, that legislation to modify the law doubtless would command more votes than a proposal for complete repeal.

It generally was assumed that President Roosevelt would discuss the entire question of neutrality repeal or revision with his congressional leaders next Monday and would weigh well their advice on what legislation to recommend.

At the summer session of the national tournament at Asbury Park, the American Contract Bridge League has built an arena so that spectators may watch the games. No charge is made for admission to the arena. The league furnishes an announcer to introduce the players, explain who is vulnerable, call out the bidding, and so on.

On one occasion last summer, four of the big shots were playing in the arena and managed to reach one no trump on today's hand. As you can see, there is no play that will defeat three no trump, and to prove he was an expert, the declarer made four.

The announcer in the arena was Freddie Sheinwold. He immediately called out, "The declarer's contract was one no trump, which he made with three overtricks"—and a great round of applause came from the kibitzers. Little did they realize that by poor bidding, the expert had given himself a bottom score on the board.

Dummy won the first trick with the king and returned a low club for a finesse of the pack. The diamond queen was next finessed, and a low club return allowed South to pick up the club king with the ace. South then led a club to the queen, East discarding a spade.

On the heart return from dummy, the jack was finessed, and West took the heart king and returned the jack of spades. South won, cashed the club ten and heart ace, then led the spade. West could take his two spade tricks but then had to lead diamonds away from his king, giving declarer the last two tricks.

67th Annual Convention of Warren County W.C.T.U. at Sugar Grove Is Most Successful

The 67th annual convention of the Warren County W. C. T. U. was held in the Presbyterian church at Sugar Grove on Tuesday, with a good representation of unions of the county.

Mrs. Mabel E. Dallas, county president, was the presiding officer at all sessions, and Mrs. H. W. Sloan, of Fredonia, N. Y., the national director of religious education, was the speaker.

In the evening, her address was on "American Defense", in which she stressed "that inner life of the spirit that makes Christian character possible, and creates an influence that reaches out into the world and produces that quality which is our only defense."

Other speakers of the day were Rev. Hugh Stevenson, Tidioute, who talked on "Christian Observance of the Sabbath"; Mrs. B. F. Armstrong, on "Child Training", and the annual message of the president, which proved helpful and inspiring to all. Ministers present throughout the day were Rev. W. O. Brainard, of the Methodist church; Rev. John McCleery, Free Methodist, and Rev. Carl Perrin, of the hostess church.

Three impressive services of the day were the dedication of four little children to the temperance cause: Nancy Lou Schoonover, Eleanor Brown, Martha and Nancy Danielson, all tied with a white ribbon; the service in memory of members who had passed away since the last convention, conducted by Mrs. Melda Grady; and the consecration service when officers were elected, conducted by Mrs. Ora Johnson.

Devotional periods were in charge of Rev. Brainard, Mrs. Edith Kapp and Mrs. Harry Jennings. Miss Evelyn Norlin, of Sheffield, was the soloist and delighted with the numbers "Lassie o' Mine" and "Trees". Mrs. H. W. Sloan and Mrs. Melda White, also Mrs. Ruth Lindquist and Mrs. Beulah Krebs sang during the sessions. Accompanists were Mrs. Gladys Jamieson, Mrs. Melda White and Mrs. W. L. Nelson.

The evening banquet was served in the dining room of the church by the Sugar Grove ladies, and music during dinner hour by Misses Ardath Chandler, violinist, and Amelia Chandler, pianist, was an enjoyable feature.

The convention in 1942 will be at Warren, with the Glade Union as hostess. Officers reelected during the convention were: Mabel E. Dallas, president; Edith Kapp, vice president; Edith Stauffer, treasurer; Bessie Walters, recording secretary; Gladys Jamieson, corresponding secretary.

GRANGE GROUP HOLDS MEETING AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 25—The traveling implement case which the Grange is sponsoring was brought to Youngsvile Tuesday evening and presented before a large crowd by Mountain Grange. In the opening and closing of Grange the chairs were also filled by members of the Mountain Grange, who, after presenting the case in a ceremony in which eight people took part, presented a special program.

It was composed of two songs by Mrs. Ida Holden and Mrs. Rea Holms, ""M'o'ther's Song" and 'Whispering Hope"; recitation by Ted Albaugh; monologue by Mrs. Myrtle Meely; five boys sang, "You Are My Sunshine" and "The Cowboys' Heaven"; a reading, Autumn," was given by Mrs. D. Stoneburg, and a mandolin solo by Yvonne Stoneburg.

Dallas Brooks, 83, sang two old-fashioned numbers, one ending with a jig. Earlier in the evening Mrs. Brooks had been presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, it being her 77th birthday. The program closed with a pantomime, "Wanted, a Wife."

During the business session of the Grange three candidates were obligated in the first and second degrees so that they may take their third and fourth with a class of candidates at initiation on Oct. 14th. All persons were invited to the dining hall for lunch. The Brokenstraw Grange will take the traveling implement case with program to Pleasant Grange on October 8th.

Twelve Granges were represented by guests. Mountain Grange led the guest list with 20 present. The other Granges represented were Warren, Pleasant, Akeley, Scandia, Chandlers Valley, Spring Creek, New London, Eldred, Columbus, Watson and Corry.

ROTARY HEARS ADDRESS

The Rotary Club heard a fine address at their dinner meeting on Tuesday evening by Rev. C. M. McIntyre of the United Brethren church on the thought, "From Darkness to Light." A good program is being planned for next week's meeting.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Mead, of Erie, were guests the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Mead. Other recent guests have been Mrs. Henry Anderson, Mrs. Norris Poling, Robert and Polly Lou Poling, of Bradford; Mrs. Merle K. Mead and a friend, of Erie.

An interesting luncheon meeting of the Youngsville Woman's Relief Corps was held Tuesday at the noon hour, with Mrs. Chester Shattuck, of Warren. At this meeting it was decided to establish a flower fund.

An installation of officers will take place at the evening meeting in the Youngsville club rooms on October 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight spent the weekend on a motor trip to the southern part of the state, visiting at the home of Miss Ada Downey and Mrs. William Downey at Latrobe.

Installment Buying Curbs Put U. S. in the Quiz Business

BY IRVING PERLMETER

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—A bridge lamp is furniture but a clothes hamper is not.

This isn't double talk; it is just some of the 24-hour a day advice that's pouring out of the federal reserve board in interpreting the instalment credit regulations which began the first of this month.

While doubting that confusion over the restrictions were any more than could be expected, one sleepy-eyed official said there were still a lot of questions to be answered after he and his staff worked nights for four weeks.

The rules set minimum down payments up to one-third of an article's cost and fixed a maximum time of 18 months for paying the balance on 24 different types of merchandise.

Furniture seems to be one of the favorite question marks.

The experts have ruled that lamps, mirrors, unpainted furniture stools, kitchen and breakfast room sets, porch tables, chairs, swings, and kitchen cabinets are "furniture."

But chinaware, cooking utensils, ordinars electric fans, wall clocks, and non-electric carpet sweepers are not furniture.

Then, there's the problem of one of these new-fangled gadgets that is part radio and part bed or other furniture. The required down payment on radios is 20 percent, but only 10 percent on furniture. The board solved this one one saying whichever part of the gadget cost most determined the classification. Thus a $100 bed with a built-in $15 radio is still a bed.

Another question has arisen concerning articles placed in customers' homes for, say, 90 days trial. Does the 18 month payment limit start at once or after the trial? The answer is that, as long as the customer pays nothing or promises nothing and has the right to return the goods, the trial time don't count.

P. S. The Federal Reserve Board reserves the right to change the rules at any time, but must give public notice of the alterations.

GERMANS HURLED BACK IN ASSAULT ON SOVIET CRIMEA

BATTALIONS OF NAZIS ARE ANNIHILATED BY RUSSIAN MINEFIELDS

By the Associated Press

Whole battalions of German shock troops have been blown to pieces by mine fields in a strong attack on the Crimea, advices reaching London said today, and the Russians were reported to have the situation well in hand, after stemming two Nazi assaults.

German parachute troops used in the attack likewise were declared to have been annihilated.

In the siege of Leningrad, the Russians admitted that German armies were steadily increasing their pressure, despite colossal losses, but declared that a series of battles had hurled the Germans back from several advanced lines.

Soviet front-line dispatches late today said fighting near the ancient walled city of Novgorod, 100 miles south of Leningrad, was still raging, with Russian troops repulsing all German attempts to cross the Volkhov river.

The Russians abandoned Novgorod a month ago, and since then the Germans have given the impression that Nazi columns from that direction were pressing close in upon Leningrad.

Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, reported that Russian troops at one point on Leningrad's approaches had gained five miles and recaptured four villages.

Nazi parachute troops and infantry were reported continuing the assault on the Crimean peninsula, battering fiercely at Soviet lines stretched across the bottleneck Perekop isthmus, only five to eight miles wide.

The terrain was described as advantageous for the Russians, with numerous small lakes and marshlands forming natural defense barriers.

To the north, Adolf Hitler's high command reported that the destruction of four Red armies trapped east of Kiev was "progressing relentlessly," with the number of Soviet prisoners now standing at 492,000.

This claim followed an official Soviet denial of an earlier Berlin announcement that 380,000 Russian troops had been captured in the Kiev battle.

Calling the Nazi assertion "a fresh Hitlerite fake," a Red army communique reported: "The fierce struggle is continuing on the Kiev front."

The British radio, quoting a Moscow spokesman, said the Germans launched their initial attack on the Crimea Wednesday night, hurling tanks, mechanized infantry and a number of parachute troops into the assault after a heavy artillery bombardment.

"The Russians waited behind vast minefields," the account continued. "Whole battalions of Germans are said to have been blown to pieces.

"The enemy withdrew to re-form eight hours later. But they were caught in the fire of Russian long-range artillery from the isthmus and from the bay to the west of the isthmus.

"Just before noon yesterday, the German attack was renewed. One German infiltration was made in the Russian lines but it was soon surrounded and annihilated."

Strategically important as the site of Russia's great Black Sea naval base of Sebastopol, the Crimean peninsula would also provide a stepping-stone for a German thrust into the Caucasus oil fields across the narrow mouth of the Sea of Azov.

Coincident with this reported blow to Hitler's invasion forces in the far south, Berlin admitted that the Russians were attacking with mounting fury on the north central front, apparently in the vicinity of Velizh, 70 miles northwest of Smolensk.

Nazi military dispatches said great masses of Russian troops were storming German trenches on the east bank of the Dvina river but had been unable to break through.

Dispatches from the Finnish front around Leningrad said British aircraft had suddenly appeared against the Finns on the Karelian isthmus, with a number of Spitfires already shot down in air fights.

Finnish officers were quoted as saying that so far only Russian airmen had been identified in the wrecked machines. A Soviet com-

EX-TREASURER DIES

Hollidaysburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—William S. Aaron, 73, former Blair county treasurer, died last night after a long illness. Aaron conducted a furniture business at Altoona for many years. A Republican, Aaron served as delegate to the party's national convention in 1916.

Cousins Involved in Crash of Motorcycles

Altoona, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Four young men, all cousins, were injured in the collision of two motorcycles on a rural road 12 miles west of here last night.

John Longnecker, 20, and his brother, Charles, 19, both of Duncansville R. D. 2, were on one machine, and their cousins, Harold Longnecker, 21, and his brother Philip, 14, both of Altoona, were on the the other.

One cycle, coming out of a narrow road, crashed into the other. Neither driver knew the other pair of cousins was in the vicinity. Charles was the most seriously hurt, suffering a broken left knee.

LATE WAR BULLETINS

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—A DNB radio announcement late today said 574,000 Russian soldiers had now been captured in the mop-up of trapped Red Army forces in the Ukraine. "Annihilation of the last remaining Soviet troops east of Kiev is impending," the agency said.

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Sept. 26—(AP)—French Indo-China authorities have protested vigorously to Japan charging violation of French sovereignty as a result of sudden, widespread arrests by Japanese troops in the French colony, it was announced officially today.

Paris, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The first three men sentenced to death by the powerful tribunal of state were executed today on the guillotine in the courtyard of Sante prison.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Brussels newspapers reported today that American businesses in Belgium had been placed under restrictions similar to those prevailing in Germany. Firms in which Americans or residents of the United States hold as much as 25 per cent interest must report their circumstances and obtain permits for any expenditures outside routine operating costs.

London, Sept. 26.—(AP)—United States Ambassador John G. Winant told the International Conference on Science and the World Order today that the first service by science to "human needs" should be application of scientific methods to crush Hitler.

Tokyo, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A Japanese spokesman opened the empire's observance of the first anniversary of Japanese signing of the Axis pact by declaring today the alliance's primary objective was world peace and that Japan

FRENCH U-BOAT AT PORTSMOUTH

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—The heaviest known submarine in the world, the 4,300-ton Surcouf of the French forces, was disclosed officially today to be at Portsmouth, N. H.

The navy announced that the Surcouf, which was one of a number of French submarines whose crews decided to put in with the British after the fall of France, was in the Portsmouth harbor for repairs under the lend-lease act.

Also, the British submarine Parthian was reported at Portsmouth and the British destroyer Burnham, the former U. S. destroyer Aulick, at Boston, both for repairs.

The Surcouf is so big that it carries a small airplane along with 8 guns, 10 torpedo tubes and a crew of 150. It has a cruising

MODIFICATION OF NEUTRALITY ACT POSSIBLE

Administration Lieutenants in Congress Reported Today to Have Rejected Proposal for Outright Repeal in Favor of Revisions

UP FOR DISCUSSION

BY WM. B. ARDERY

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—Administration lieutenants in congress were reported today to have rejected a proposal for outright repeal of the neutrality act and to be ready to work instead for legislation making vital revisions.

The repeal proposal was introduced yesterday by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), a consistent administration supporter. McKellar, who told the Senate that the neutrality law established a policy which "no great nation like ours can indulge in," said today he had acted entirely on his own responsibility. He added he did not know whether the administration would approve complete repeal of the neutrality law.

One well-advised leader told reporters that McKellar's measure was not acceptable to the administration. He said the legislation recommended by President Roosevelt next week probably would follow the lines indicated Wednesday by Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee.

Connally suggested that the neutrality law be amended to permit the arming of American ships and to allow them to enter presently-forbidden belligerent ports and combat zones.

The Texas senator declared that some provisions of the neutrality

MYRON TAYLOR ON A SURPRISE LONDON TRIP

London, Sept. 26—(AP)—Informed sources said today that Myron Taylor, President Roosevelt's envoy to the vatican, and Mrs. Taylor were arriving in Britain on a surprise visit.

United States embassy sources made no immediate explanation of Taylor's visit but implied he would have conferences with Prime Minister Churchill. The length of his stay was not stated.

Taylor comes to England from papal conferences and talks with William D. Leahy, United States ambassador to Vichy, and Vichy authorities.

RELIEF GRANTS HIKED TO MEET MILK INCREASES

Harrisburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—Food allowances to 66,000 families on relief will be increased to absorb rising milk costs, the state board of public assistance announced, but the question of dealing with mounting rentals won't be decided until next month.

Provision was made by the board yesterday "to absorb any charges for milk in excess of 11 cents per quart and six cents per pint where such higher charges now exist or may result hereafter from rising milk prices," said Chairman Frank A. Robbins, Jr.

Families on relief are required by law to purchase a pint of milk daily for each child under 16 years old, and the cost is deducted from the weekly food grant.

Robbins said the increases would range from 30 cents to $4.20 monthly, depending on the size of the family and geographic location. Milk prices vary over the state, but virtually everywhere the charge has been hoisted a penny a quart.

The rental problem was discussed but was left for decision at the October meeting, the date for which was not fixed.

The board adopted this resolution:

"The assistance families hardest hit by the higher cost of milk in some areas as compared with others and by the general upward trend of milk prices are the families including numbers of young children, with many needs other than milk.

"In the judgment of the state board, no family, and particularly no family including young children, should be deprived of part of the cash purchasing power provid-

WILL HAYS TO BE CALLED BEFORE MOVIE PROBERS

Chairman Reveals Plans to Summon Czar as Willkie Charges That First Attempt is Being Made Toward Censorship

ZANUCK IS A WITNESS

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—Chairman Clark (D-Idaho) said today that a senate interstate commerce subcommittee intended to summon Will Hays, the movie czar, for testimony soon in its inquiry into alleged war propaganda in motion pictures.

Clark made this disclosure as Wendell L. Willkie, representing movie producers as counsel, charged that the committee investigation was "one of the first attempts in America to suggest to the American people what they should read or see."

The committee called Darryl Zanuck of 20th Century Fox as its first witness today and Clark said the time of Hay's appearance would be fixed later.

In a statement handed to reporters, Willkie asserted that there was no question that the American people "have welcomed and approved pictures which portray the truths and facts about Hitlerism."

"Unless the day comes in this country, as in Germany, when the public is denied the force of its own opinion and is compelled to witness praise for all that is contrary to its concepts of freedom and justice," Willkie continued "the

FUNERAL HELD IN WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt, still mourning the recent death of the chief executive's mother, arranged a funeral service at the White House today for the first lady's brother, G. Hall Roosevelt, who died here yesterday at the age of 50.

After simple services in the historic east room at 3 p. m. (EST) the president and his wife will accompany the body on an overnight train to Tivoli, N. Y., where burial will take place in the family plot.

Both services will be private with only members of the two families and close friends present.

Capt. J. C. W. Linsley, chaplain at nearby Fort Myer, was selected to conduct the White House rites.

ECONOMIC WARFARE TIGHTENS

New Board Headed by Vice President Wallace Further Centralizes Control By Taking Over Issuance of All Export Licenses in the $4,000,000,000-a-Year Foreign Trade of Nation

ADDITIONAL "BLACK LIST" IS ANNOUNCED

BY LLOYD LEHRBAS

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Economic Defense Board headed by Vice President Wallace further centralized control of economic warfare and kindred defense measures today by taking over the issuance of all export licenses in the $4,000,000,000-a-year foreign trade of the United States.

In line with President Roosevelt's order of Sept. 15 to "intensify the policy of preventing shipments to Axis-dominated countries," the Economic Defense Board began absorption of the State Department's division of controls, which heretofore has collaborated with the export control administration in regulating exports and issuance of export licenses.

Wallace's super-defense board already has taken over the previously independent and army-directed export control administration with the objective of integrating its functions into the broader work of the board.

The economic defense organization also issued a supplementary "black list" containing the names of 300 persons and firms in the other American republics to whom no more shipments of American goods will be permitted.

The 300 "black listed" firms have been added to the original "proclaimed list of certain blocked nationals" which contained more than 1,800 individuals and firms in Latin American countries. The names of 65 firms on the original list were deleted yesterday because "satisfactory corrective action" had been taken.

In announcing the original "black list," it was stated it was comprised of persons or firms "deemed to be acting for the benefit of Germany and Italy or nationals of those countries and persons to whom the exportation directly or indirectly, of various

Pittsburgh, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Seven men lost their lives in western Pennsylvania accidents, two of which occurred on the Pennsylvania turnpike, yesterday.

Two Illinois certified public accountants, Glenn E. Patterson, 33, of Evanston, and Thomas J. Duffy, Jr., 30, of Chicago, were killed in a mishap on the turnpike five miles east of New Stanton. Their car ran into a high embankment, then backed down, throwing both out of the machine. They died of skull fractures and internal injuries.

A few miles away, John Crawford, 34, of Pontiac, Mich., was killed when his motorcycle crashed into a guard rail on the turnpike. Coroner H. Albert McMurray said he learned Crawford was going 80 miles an hour.

Carmelion Giancesco, 39, assistant track foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Middle Division, was crushed to death under the wheels of a shifting locomotive in the Altoona yards. He was the division's second workman killed in two days.

Webster X. Mostoller, Jr., of Friedens R. D., Somerset county, swerved a tractor to avoid striking a cow. His brother, John S. Mostoller, fell from the tractor and was injured fatally by a rear wheel.

Joseph Sorcer, 45, of Broughton, Allegheny county, was hurt fatally by a dynamite explosion in the Montour mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

A Beaver county man, James Mangan, 50, was killed in a fall from a bridge into Mudlick run

Support for Battle of Ballots for Favorite Baby Spreading Rapidly

Campaign is Just Now Beginning to Show Real Interest With Many New Entrants Being Registered Daily

MERCHANTS ENTHUSED

Moving along with the smoothness of seasoned campaigners, with plenty of confidence and the backing of their respective legions of friends are the babies of the community vieing for the honor of being chosen to wear the crown of the favorite Baby Election and Trade expansion sponsored by leading merchants and the Times-Mirror.

Today finds the little hats of reigning favorites in the ring, and their support in the battle of ballots that is spreading throughout the country side and reaching even into neighboring communities.

TRIAL OF ELDRED HOLDUP MEN IS NEARING CLOSE

Edward Kern, of Pittsburgh, One of Defendants, Takes Stand to Deny He Was Implicated in May 14th Robbery

OTHER INDICTMENTS

Erie, Sept. 26—(AP)—Three men, convicted to robbing the First National Bank of Eldred, Pa., of $5,311 last May 14, were sentenced today by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to terms of 25 years each.

Sentenced were John Edward Kern, 29, of Pittsburgh; Francis X. Spinley, 25, and John Simmons, 25, both of Buffalo. They were found guilty by a federal court jury after less than two hours' deliberation. The formal indictment charged bank robbery, jeopardizing bank employes' lives and conspiracy.

Judge Schoonmaker ruled that the sentences imposed on Spinley and Simmons should be served concurrently with 8 to 20 year sentences ordered previously by the McKean county court after their conviction on armed bank robbery charges.

Erie, Sept. 26—(AP)—The federal court trial of three men charged with robbing the First National Bank of Eldred of $5,311 neared a close today.

The defense presented a sole witness yesterday, Edward John Kern, of Pittsburgh, one of the defendants, took the stand to deny he was implicated in the May 14 robbery, contending he was in Pittsburgh with a girl that day.

Asked where he got the money found on him, he said he played the "numbers" May 8 and "hit" for $675. Kern claimed that because

SCHOOLS START IN SIX COUNTIES

Harrisburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—The thrice-extended summer vacation for thousands of pupils in six counties and parts of three others hit hard by infantile paralysis will end next Monday.

The ban on school sessions was lifted by state health authorities in Dauphin, York, Cumberland, Lebanon, Schuylkill and Montgomery counties and parts of Lancaster, Cambria and Northumberland.

The disease spread to 58 counties, took at least 33 lives, and claimed more than 480 sufferers to date this year. The outbreak centered in York county, where eight deaths were recorded since July 1.

Dr. A. H. Stewart, acting secretary of health, said York schools were being opened Mon-

ASK PRICE SCHEDULE RESTORED

Operators from District Whose Advances Were Disallowed by Office of Production Month Ago Contend Boosts Posted Were Not Inflationary Because They "Fulfilled Economic Purpose of Stimulating Supply"

PRINCIPAL ARGUMENTS PREPARED IN BRIEF

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Pennsylvania grade oil producers whose price advances were disallowed by the Office of Price Administration last month contended at a hearing today the increases were not inflationary because, chiefly, they "fulfilled the economic purpose of stimulating supply to meet an increased demand."

More than 100 producers, legal representatives and other interested persons, appeared at the informal hearing before deputies of Price Administrator Leon Henderson. They asked withdrawal of the price schedule issued by OPA on August 22.

The producers agreed in a prepared argument that inflation would exist if prices advanced to the point "where little or no additional supply was made available," but denied that situation was true of Pennsylvania grade oil. With an extensive exhibit of logarithmic tables showing production cost in detail, they sought to show an economic impossibility of financing increased production under former price schedules. Defense needs and generally prosperous conditions have increased the demand for their product.

The producers further denied the new price level was inflationary because it was "in harmony with general price trends for other basic commodities" and because "it would not be passed on to the consumer."

Spectators at the hearing included several members of Congress from the oil field, which extends into New York, Ohio, and West Virginia. They included Senators Guffey (D-Pa.) and Burton (R-Ohio), and Representative Jarrett (R-Pa.). Jarrett commented he thought the producers "have a just cause. This is the life blood of the district."

Fayette B. Dow, general counsel of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, opened the case for the producers and read some of the principal arguments from the prepared brief. Others prepared to speak included: Otto Wachli, Wellsville, N. Y.; Ralph T. Zook, of the Bradford, Pa., district, and E. O. Breen, Oil City, Pa.

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, the petroleum coordinator, said today a "factual inventory" had found a net surplus of only 5,192 rail tank cars available to haul petroleum to the Atlantic seaboard.

This finding sharply disagreed with a contention by J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads that 20,000 idle tank cars were available for operation in the oil emergency.

The survey Ickes quoted was made by the East Coast Transportation Committee of the oil industry.

The senate committee which investigated the oil situation in the

CIVILIANS JOIN IN THE DEFENSE OF SHREVEPORT

By the Associated Press

The trappings of war were added to besieged Shreveport today as fierce fighting between the Second and Third armies converged on this northwestern Louisiana city of 100,000 situated in the center of the gigantic war games' final round.

Civilian joined in the Second army's defense of Shreveport in mock seriousness, donning red arm bands and placing red V's for victory on automobile windshields. Machine guns and artillery were set up at approaches to the city and steel-helmeted infantrymen tramped the streets in full battle kit.

Meantime to the south, Lieut.-General Ben Lear's outnumbered defending forces fought a rear guard action, delaying the slow, steady advance of Lieut.-General Walter Krueger's huge Third army. Second army defenses were drawn in a semi-circle 50 miles south and east of Shreveport, from Center, Tex., to Arcadia, La.

The 100-mile line bristled with artillery and machine-gun nests. Anti-tank guns protected vital roadways and anti-aircraft weapons were posted at important bridgeheads to ward off bombing attacks and keep troop and supply lanes open to the front.

Secrecy shrouded main troop movements on both sides, but the Third army was known to be massing huge infantry reserves about 50 miles behind the front, supposedly ready to pour through any breach in the line torn by combined armored and mechanized infantry divisions. Where-

Daylight Saving Time Will Not Be Extended

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Federal Power Commission announced today it would not recommend the continuation, beyond Sept. 28, of daylight saving time in any region of the United States.

This decision was reached, Commission Chairman Leland Olds said, after a canvass of the power situation throughout the country and an analysis of the effect of summer daylight saving in the southeastern region.

The chairman emphasized that today's announcement did not preclude the possibility that a resumption of daylight saving or its establishment in other areas, might be recommended if circumstances warranted.

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

Chapter 16
Overboard

PAM was aware more than once of Lenore's smouldering eyes upon her. She caught a glimpse of Jerry talking to Freda. Her heart started uncomfortably. Could that be jealousy? Mrs. Winthrope had fastened Pam's violets at one end of a handsome scarf that was part of the black dress she wore. Pam was delighted. Mrs. Winthrope must really be pleased with the gift.

Then Leo was dancing with her again.

"You've never been quite as lovely as you are tonight," he said. She still wore his roses at her shoulder. "I'm beginning to think I've been laggard to my own loss. Have I, Pam?"

"I don't know what you mean, Leo." They were standing beside the rail now, looking out over the silvered water.

"Yes, you do, Pam. Am I too late? Have I let things go too long? Have I been too slow in asking you for a definite answer? And yet if it means your happiness—" His words were interrupted by one of the ship's officers.

"Beg pardon, sir, but you're wanted on the gangplank. Someone from the hospital. Says it's important, to please hurry."

Leo turned hastily to Pam, touched her hand for a fleeting moment:

"There was a critical case. One I operated on this afternoon." His words were clipped and earnest. "That's the worst of being a doctor. Right in the middle of a proposal! Pam, I'll come back if I can, but I probably can't."

"I'll hold everything until you do!" She patted his shoulder as he turned. "It's swell to see someone who feels his duty and goes to perform it."

At the gangplank Jerry, who had seen the messenger come to the boat, waited for Leo. He liked the young doctor.

"I'm leaving her in your care," Leo said hurriedly. "I expect you to make a job of seeing that she has a good time and gets home safely."

Jerry knew without being told that he referred to Pam. He knew too that Leo meant that she must be protected from Lenore's cruel jibes.

"As if anyone has to ask me that!" he said. "Come back if you can, Leo."

Jerry went back then and claimed Pam. Pam asked him to get her marigolds from the ice box, a little sorry that she must make the change after Leo had gone.

"Don't be offended, Jerry," she said. "I didn't know Leo would be called away, and I do want to wear your flowers."

"I know. I'm glad they pleased you—that's all I ask."

"They're one of the sweetest thoughts I've ever known, Jerry. Thank you so much."

He paused to look at her, then went and got the flowers, sweet and velvety and cool. Pam went to the powder room to fasten them in place. She put the roses she had been wearing in a small vase she found there. Freda came in just as she was making the change.

Push From Lenore

"SUCH popularity! I think you're the only girl here who got two corsages. As a matter of fact, I didn't get any! May I have one?" Her fingers were at the stem of one of the roses.

"Oh, surely! I know Leo would feel honored," Pam said as Freda fastened the rosebud in her hair.

"From Leo? Then I'm all the more flattered to wear it. He's got stuff, that lad."

"Yes, Leo is a real person."

Freda turned to her sharply. "You haven't got the Indian sign on him, too, I hope?" she asked. "Now that I'm bereft of Jerry, I've been casting about and had just about settled on Leo as worthy of my gifts."

"Here's luck!" Pam laughed. "May the best girl win!"

"My dear"—Freda was suddenly serious—"then I wouldn't have the ghost of a chance. I mean that. I think Jerry's lucky to have been able to trade a bored post-debutante in for a fresh and interesting island flower."

And then Freda was gone with a lad who had claimed her with a gay meeting and drew her into an intricate dance step.

Lenore, passing, paused to stare insolently at Pam. She noted the changed corsage and new flames of displeasure lighted in her eyes. Pam smiled maddenly at her.

"Yes," she said, as she lifted her shoulder slightly "from Jerry. The roses were from Leo."

"Come on, honey bee," Jerry was beside her again as if by magic, drawing her away from any opportunity to hear a reply that Lenore might have made. "I need a drink and you look as if you could do with one."

They moved toward the bar, where, without even asking her, Jerry ordered a very fancy and glorified orange juice for Pam. Blaze had trailed them and stood beside Jerry, unmindful, in her quiet dignity, of the constant movement about her.

Lenore, still smouldering, came alongside of them. She looked at Pam with scornful eyes, swept the girl from head to toe.

"Every time I move, must I be confronted with you and your Conch companion?" she asked of Jerry.

"Please remember Mother invited Pam here, Lenore," Jerry replied.

"Because she's foolish enough to want to please you! Why you have to bring all of your stupid flirtations to the attention of the whole world!"

"That's just the difference"—there was a peculiar intenseness in Jerry's voice—"between you and me. I mean what I'm doing, and have nothing to keep under cover! And now you'd better shut up, if you know what's good for you. I don't want to get rough with you, Lenore, but I will if I have to."

Pam, meanwhile, had been sipping her drink as if she hadn't heard, and something about her calm indifference angered Lenore. Glass in hand, Lenore swaggered around to Pam's side.

"I can imagine the story of where you get your clothes would make good reading," she said. "Making flowers and hats doesn't pay for the sort of things you wear. I dare you to tell who does!"

Pam turned sharply. There were no words, she felt, that could answer that. Her hand rose swiftly and lay for an instant against Lenore's cheek. Lenore shrieked.

"She struck me!" Her voice was high and wild. "That little rat hit me!" She lunged at Pam, who had turned and walked from the brawl.

"Soft-pedal it, Lenore!" It was Freda's voice, firm with authority. "You asked for it!" But Lenore seemed to get only the wilder at Freda's words. She rushed at Pam again.

Pam, much the smaller, turned and, to protect herself, gripped the rail, her heels hooked into the lower one. She was caught in Lenore's rush and somehow unbalanced. There was a stifled scream, a flash of green, pale and dim in the moonlight, and then a splash of water.

"Three Go Over"

"SHE'S overboard!" It was Jerry's voice, husky with alarm.

"Someone overboard!" The cry went round the boat. And then in still more panic: "Sharks! There are sharks in that water and barracuda. Oh, Jerry's over! Jerry!"

"Jerry! Jerry!" It was Mrs. Winthrope at the rail. Bart Winthrope, too, had joined the group, and other guests were disjointly trying to explain what had happened.

"Jerry's a good swimmer," Bart Winthrope announced, "but what about the girl?"

"Pam can do anything," a voice replied.

"I did it, and I'm glad of it!" Lenore exclaimed. "Better a shark or a barracuda gets him than a beach girl!"

"Lenore!"

Pam, swimming through the pleasantly warm water, heard the girl's name in sharp rebuke from Mrs. Winthrope. Rebuke and alarm. She had heard, too, Jerry's quick dive and knew that he was following her.

"You've done nothing to boast of, Lenore. I'd keep quiet, if I were you." It was spoken in a stern tone. Voices carried so over water. Pam could hear much of what was said against the confusion of sound made by the lesser actors in the scene.

And then she heard something that paralyzed her with fright. A third body had plunged into the water. She knew instinctively by the way it struck the water that it had been Blaze. If there were sharks or barracuda near, Blaze would be the victim. Human beings were often let alone, but dogs were seemingly a favorite prey.

"The searchlight!" someone cried. "Turn the light on them. Lower a boat!"

Pam was grateful for the light. She swam easily and expertly. She turned and looked and finally saw the dog's head coming toward her.

"Blaze!" she commanded. "Come here, Blaze!"

The animal was making headway toward her. As soon as they were within reach of each other, Pam grasped Blaze's collar and pulled her along, swimming with all the speed she was capable of. Vaguely, she heard Jerry's voice calling her.

"Why, she's got Blaze!" someone shouted in amazement as the light picked them out.

Blaze, seeming to understand, swam with all her might beside Pam and actually, as Pam tired slightly, helped the girl. Pam had known it would just be a matter of getting Blaze started in the right direction, so she would not swim out to sea.

Finally they were at the lower platform of the dock. There was a ladder there for swimmers to climb up, though very few people ever used it. They were not encouraged to swim there.

Pam clung to it and managed to push Blaze up. Blaze's instinctive fear of open slats made the thing difficult at first, but she grasped the idea, and climbed carefully. Pam was laughing as she climbed the ladder which led to the platform. Jerry, breathless, was immediately behind her.

FIRST PENNANT IN 21 YEARS UNFURLED OVER FLATBUSH

BROOKS ENTER FLAGTOWN WITH VICTORY OVER BOSTON BRAVES; GAS HOUSERS CHASED BY BUCS

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers, long the clown princes of baseball, are the new kings of the National League. Long live the kings!

The kids from Kings county, New York (the same as the borough of Brooklyn to everybody except the district attorney) came through in royal glory at Boston with a 6-0 conquest of the Braves yesterday and clinched their first pennant in 21 years.

The St. Louis Cardinals cooperated by losing a 3-1 decision at Pittsburgh to bring the most strenuous championship struggle in recent years to a sudden stop.

As a result of the victory and defeat, the Redbirds were left 2½ games behind the Dodgers with each club having two games left to play.

	W.	L.	Pct.	Gbl.	Gtp.
Brooklyn	99	53	.651	----	2
St. Louis	96	55	.636	2½	2

Somehow the session at Boston, perfectly played on the part of the Dodgers, seemed like an anticlimax. The Bums had had to battle for every inch in their furious, often frantic, foray against the western clubs of the league and even against the lowly Phillies.

In Boston yesterday they knew they were in and were just marking time.

Whitlow Wyatt, their baldish pitching ace, produced a masterful five-hit performance to achieve his seventh shutout and 22nd victory of the season. His teammates loosed a vigorous offensive which young Pete Reiser climaxed with a two-run seventh-inning homer. The game had been nailed down, however, when Brooklyn bagged one run in each of the first three innings.

Max Butcher, a big West Virginia mountaineer once a Dodger, took care of crimping the Cardinals. He held the Cards to five hits, their only run was forced in with a walk. The Pirates plastered Ernie White with defeat through Rookie Bill Cox' triple for a run in the third and Elbie Fletcher's homer with one on in the sixth.

Both clubs have open dates today—time for the Dodgers to celebrate and for the Cardinals to lick their wounds. Tomorrow and Sunday the Cards clash again with the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers finish against the Phils.

As many of the Brooklyn regulars as possible will be rested for the opening of the World Series with the New York Yankees next Wednesday.

In the other games yesterday the Cincinnati Reds stormed to a 6-0 decision over the Cubs and the New York Giants squeezed out a 3-2 victory over the Phillies. Cincinnati's win came on the two-hit hurling of Rookie Ray Starr.

All clubs in the American League were idle.

WORLD SERIES SLATE

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—Clinching of the National League pennant by the Brooklyn Dodgers will allow the World Series to be reeled off without any time out for travel.

The schedule as announced by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis:

Oct. 1 and 2 at Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 3, 4 and 5 at Ebbets Field.

Oct. 6 and 8 at Yankee Stadium.

The one-day intermission after the sixth game is to allow time for distribution of tickets for the seventh contest, if the series goes the limit.

All games will start at 1:30 p. m. (EST).

BY JUDSON BAILEY

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—Brooklyn went batty over its new National League pennant today, but nobody was nearly as delirious as the Dodgers themselves.

During the four hours it took their special train to make the trip home from Boston last night they steamed up the greatest celebration any baseball team ever has had for the clinching of a championship.

President Larry MacPhail, who had remained here to pass out World Series tickets, stocked the homecoming train with champagne.

The wheels had hardly started rolling before the corks started popping—and by the time the effervescent entourage pulled into Grand Central station a little before midnight the Dodgers were hilarious and the train was a wreck.

Somebody thought it would be a grand idea to rip the shirt off Coach Charley Dressen and before his chummy companions were finished they had him almost in the nude. Then they started on each other and more shirts were ripped to pieces within a few minutes than a laundry could do in 10 years.

Peewee Reese and Pistol Pete Reiser prowled up and down the aisles squirting everybody with champagne, until the kids were tipped off that that was something to drink. Then they turned to shampooing the porters and waiters with creamed spinach.

This went on for hours and for miles and miles—but you get the general idea.

It was the unbelievable end to an unimaginable tour that lasted for two weeks and was more like a traveling circus than a ball club on a business trip.

The Dodgers went west September 8 in a streamlined special train, with every player having a room to himself.

As they rolled around the country they picked up a curious collection of followers. For the past several days of their trip the party included, besides a score of newspapermen and photographers, one Brooklyn undertaker and two assistants, two bookmakers, a well-known brain specialist, Tony Martin, the screen and radio singer, wives of several players and the child of one, and various deep-eyed Flatbush fans.

The whole gang stepped off the train headlong into a worshipful welcome from some 7,000 fans who packed Grand Central Terminal for a glimpse of the conquering heroes.

But the person who started it all, who assembled the Championship ball club and paid for the champagne, was the great forgotten man.

MacPhail had taken a long taxi ride uptown to board the train. But it went roaring past to the climax of a great celebration and the redhead just stood there fuming on the platform.

SPORTS FIGURE DIES

Joseph E. Hart, 38, well known Erie sports figure and football official, died in Hamot hospital at 1:15 a. m. Tuesday after suffering an attack of pneumonia. The deceased had officiated at scores of football games during the past 15 years. At the time of his death he was employed as a machinery salesman. Hart was stricken ill a week ago last Sunday. His condition gradually became worse and it was necessary to remove him to Hamot hospital last Saturday afternoon.

--- But He Had a Tough Time Getting It

TALBOT LIKES NOVA IN TITLE CLASH MONDAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—Looking back on Joe Louis' fights and recalling the ferocity with which he has torn into the big fellows he could hit easily, it takes a lot of will power to pick Lou Nova to win the heavyweight crown from the big negro.

There is the additional hazard that most 'professionals" of the fight game—the men who undoubtedly know the business best—are stringing along with the Bomber.

A score of managers, trainers and promoters encountered yesterday at Nova's camp virtually were unanimous in believing that the champion would belt Nova out inside of 10 rounds when they meet Monday night at the Polo Grounds.

But the writer happens to have had a hunch for a long time that Nova was the one fighter with the physical equipment and the heart required to whip Louis, and there is no sense in backing down now. Maybe he won't, and maybe he will be only another heartbroken heavyweight after he has sampled the Louis dynamite, but it will be after a terrible fight. That much is certain.

In his final workout yesterday, Nova probably looked better than anybody ever saw him. He is as ready as a fighter possibly can be and is punching harder than ever before. He still is absolutely convinced he has the title in his grasp. He is by far the most confident man Louis ever faced, barring Max Schmeling.

Lou has been underrated as a puncher. He laid a right on Jim Neville's jaw yesterday that almost floored the heavyweight, and Trainer Ray Arcel had to go between them until Neville recovered. His left frequently jarred and staggered both men he worked with.

Not that he can hit like Louis does, but who can? The principal thing is that Nova can take it. Louis will clout him many a time, probably will have him on the floor not long after the bell rings. But the surest thing in the world is that Nova will get up. And he is trained to travel for 15 rounds at the only pace he knows. Joe, to repeat, has not fought a man like that. He might not like it.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

SUBWAY SERIES CAN'T MISS BEING AN INTERESTING ONE; KEEP MARTY SERVO IN MIND AS LIGHTWEIGHT CONTENDER

Well, the Dodgers are in, the Cardinals (and this agent) out, and now all that's left is the breeze which will blow from the Yankee hits as the Bronx Bombers battle the Beautiful Brooklyn Bums in the World Series starting next Wednesday. Nothing can be taken away from the grand baseball outfit under the guidance of Leo the Lip, a team which has brought Flatbush its first pennant in 21 years, and no one is trying to take anything from them any longer since the Cards' effort to cop the pennant from Ebbets Field was futile. This corner offers no alibis for the Redbirds, though we would have liked to have seen them beaten with every regular in the lineup throughout the entire season, as was the case for Brooklyn. No better opposition could be found for the Yankees than MacPhail's knights of the diamond, and if any ball club can scare the Yanks, it'll be those unpredictable Brooks. Yet, hoping to cash in on one baseball prediction before the season can be found only in the record books, this corner pecks into the sporto-scope and takes the McCarthymen in five games.

Marty Servo served an elegant dish of leather to Ray (Sugar) Robinson last night before he bowed to the Negro, and the colored youngster who doesn't remind his opponents of his nick name when in the ring, had all he could do to win a split decision over the fast charging, hard punching Italian boy from Schenectady, N. Y. Servo, a first cousin of Former Lightweight King Lou Ambers, one of the finest little men ever to enter a ring to exhibit the manly art of modified murder, has a first-class trainer and second in Herkimer Lou who is teaching the kid what to do and when to do it. And Servo's showing against the highly touted Robinson was much more impressive than was Ray's victory. Both were undefeated before the scrap, but Servo was the underdog in the minds of a majority of experts and the betting fraternity. Robinson, a finished boxer with a bolo punch in his right glove that brings a serenade from the birdies, knew he had been in quite a battle after trying to keep pace with the bobbing, weaving little man who just kept punching and stayed out of the way of Robinson's dynamite. The verdict was booed by the ringsiders, and this corner, only a radio-side fan, nevertheless rates Servo just as good a chance to get to the top as Ray, and just as quickly as the Harlem Candy Stick. A return match will be a "natural."

Quickies . . . While we're not on the Nova bandwagon, isn't it strange how he's followed a long line of challengers who could only get one person to listen to their side of the argument in respective title quests, and that person their manager . . . Writers say Nova's punch isn't hard enough to put the skids under Joe, nor is Yogi Lou fast enough . . . They're expecting a lot from Higbe and Wyatt now when the series gets here because of their season records . . . Take a tip from this corner, don't be surprised if both of them are beaten in their efforts . . . Higbe will probably think he's back with the Phils when the Yanks get an advantage on him that the Brooks can't overtake . . . They're calling the Cards the team that rookies built, and here's a hand to a swell crew, and to the greatest personality among today's major league managers, Billy Southworth, the man whose heart was so big that every Redbird fought his heart out for the soft spoken pilot . . . And the Yanks come out and admit they feel they got the softer touch in getting Brooklyn instead of St. Louis as their series opponent . . . Well, that's some consolation . . .

Last Night's Bouts

Robinson Wins Close Decision Over Servo

Philadelphia, Sept. 26—(AP)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson, who many persons believe will be the next lightweight champion, is still undefeated as a professional, but his most recent victim, Marty Servo, almost turned the tables.

The Brooklyn Negro and Servo, also unbeaten, battled through 10 rounds before 10,000 at Convention Hall last night before Robinson won the decision.

That in itself was a moral victory for Servo, of Schenectady, N. Y., for Robinson has been knocking out his opponents with regularity. In fact, Servo, a pre-fight 5 to 1 underdog, took everything Robinson had to offer and the negro got the nod only by coming from behind in the last two rounds.

It was Robinson's 25th consecutive triumph while Servo had his first loss in 46 bouts.

Little World Series Gets Started Tonight

Montreal, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Montreal Royals, International League farm of the Brooklyn Dodgers, newly crowned champions of the National League, carry the family banner into action tonight against Columbus Red Birds in the opening game of the "Little World Series."

The Royals were runners-up to the Newark Bears during the regular season, but earned the right to meet Columbus, American Association pennant winner and play-off champions, by edging out the Bears, four games to three in the final playoff series.

Columbus is a farm team of the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn's chief rival all season, so when the Red Birds and the Royals meet tonight it will be a renewal on a small scale of the feud between the major league clubs.

BLUE AND WHITE CHARGES ARE FAVORED TO TAKE THIRD IN ROW IN ENCOUNTER AT TITUSVILLE

Coach J. B. "Jake" Leidig's charges are all ready to invade Titusville tomorrow afternoon in quest of their fourth successive gridiron victory of the season, and the Warren High Dragons will enter the fray heavy favorites to gain their objective.

With heavy drills the early part of this week and lighter sessions yesterday and this afternoon, the local schoolboys are in top shape to battle the Rockets and repeat their 19-0 triumph at the expense of the Brown and Gold on Russell Field last year.

With a dazzling offensive and an air tight defense, the confident Blue and White aggregation plans to get the jump on their foes, build up a comfortable lead, and protect it through the remainder of the battle.

Highly successful in this plan against Kane High's Wolves last week here, the Leidigmen should be able to repeat the feat over what shapes up to be a weaker squad than even Kane's inexperienced grid machine.

It is expected, however, that the Rockets will resort to every grid trick they have been taught in an effort to offset the advantage which will be taken into the game by the Dragons in regard to weight and power.

The Warren lineup is expected to be the same as last week, with Ted Black and Adams at the wings; Frank Peterson and Keith Patchen, tackles; Tony Marasco and Ken Patchen, guards; Leon Christiansen, center; Bob Sedon at quarterback; Don Sharp and Lloyd Dickerson at the halves; and hard-hitting Albert Salerno, at the fullback post.

Local followers of the Dragons planning to make the trip to Titusville are reminded that the kickoff is slated for 2:30 o'clock daylight saving time.

Red Jackets May Expect Strong Opposition From Springdale A. A. In Third Game Of Season Sunday

Making doubly sure that reserve strength won't have another opportunity to go hand in hand with breaks to beat the Springdale A. A. this year when they tangle with the Red Jackets Sunday, the visitors have a mobilized unit of no less than 27 players coming here with the intentions of "blitzing" the western Pennsylvania semi-pro champions and going home with a claim to the title.

While officially the crown will not be at stake, any sectional team that has the fortune of coming out of a game with the Jackets on the long end of the score this year, naturally will stake a claim to the honors.

Of last year's team, which gave the locals a real ball game until the fading minutes of the final chapter, fifteen players are on this year's Springdale roster, including all eleven gridders in their starting lineup.

The strong and reputable Pittsburgh team, former tri-state champions, have added weight to their system of unity in composing a mightier outfit this season than they have boasted in recent years, every man on the aggregation capable of playing sixty minutes of sound and worthy football.

Such veterans as the Howells brothers, Lafferty, Lelis and Hominac will be found in the starting backfield, while Killian, Eckelbarger, Hensel and Cooper, some of the most stubborn gridders ever to play in the forward wall of sectional semi-pro grid teams, will be on hand and ready to give the many fans more than just a good show, but also a complete test of Red Jacket power this season.

As for the locals, Coaches Reese and Paris plan to do a little experimenting with the lineup, starting this weekend and continuing into next week. The local line is their main problem, and its condition as to effectiveness must be straightened out, but quickly, if the champs want to be called by that name at the end of the current campaign.

Sunday's contest will start at 2:30 p. m. eastern standard time, with popular prices reigning at the gates. Pine Johnson will do the refereeing according to present plans, with Gerry Peterson, popular local young official, umpire, and Louis Brown, of Jamestown as is Johnson, head linesman.

PLANE EXHIBITED

A captured yellow-nosed German Messerschmitt 169 fighting plane, which downed five Allied planes before it was shot down in a night raid over London, and which was smuggled under convoy to America, is on exhibition in East Perry Square at Erie, for three days. The exhibition is sponsored by the Erie chapter of Bundles for Britain. It is being shown in a tent and admission is charged.

Steel armour for protection of soldiers against bullets was used in the 17th century but finally was abandoned because the weight added for protection against improved bullets made it impractical.

Girl Football Scout

Pretty Mrs. Guy McDowell, 20, scouted Duquesne against Waynesburg in Pittsburgh for Mississippi State. Her husband formerly played guard for the Maroons.

CHESS CLUB TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

On Monday evening at eight o'clock the Warren Chess Club will hold its second meeting of the season at the Biekarck music store.

Plans are under way to start the tournament for the county championship, to be held on the first Monday in October. Several already have signified their intention to participate.

Those entered to date include T. Van Velzen, of Amsterdam, Holland, who is now staying in Warren; Dr. Arnold Kippen, rapid transit expert; H. Sorensen, formerly of the Cleveland Chess Club; Lloyd Nollinger, checker champion of Warren county; Marcus Naylor, who won the title in 1937; Alton Blyler, high school champion; Rex Biekarck and John Erickson. It is expected that more will enter during the coming week.

An invitation is extended to all interested in the game to participate in the event. Those who are interested in learning the game are invited to attend the regular meetings.

Rex Biekarck will lead round table discussions once a month on the technical points and openings of the game. He will also include a short talk on the middle game, its importance and problems.

Matches will be held from time to time throughout the winter with chess clubs of nearby towns and it is expected that a most interesting season is ahead for all those who enjoy the royal game.

Sunday Schools to Hold Group Meeting In Starbrick Chapel

The annual group meeting of the union Sunday schools of Starbrick, Pleasant and Yankee Bush will be held in the Starbrick chapel on Sunday, the afternoon service to be at 2:30 and the evening service at 7:45.

During the afternoon session, the Sunday schools will give a 20-minute program and talks will be given by other Sunday school workers, according to Rev. B. F. Armstrong, American Sunday School Union missionary for this field.

Rev. H. H. Barr, a former Methodist district superintendent and now a resident of Warren, will deliver the message for the evening service. The public is cordially invited.

ATTENTION ELKS

Members of Warren Lodge, No 223, B. P. O. Elks, are requested to meet at the lodge home at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening to go to the home of their late brother, A. A. Riwa, to pay their last respects.

H. J. Christensen,
Exalted Ruler.

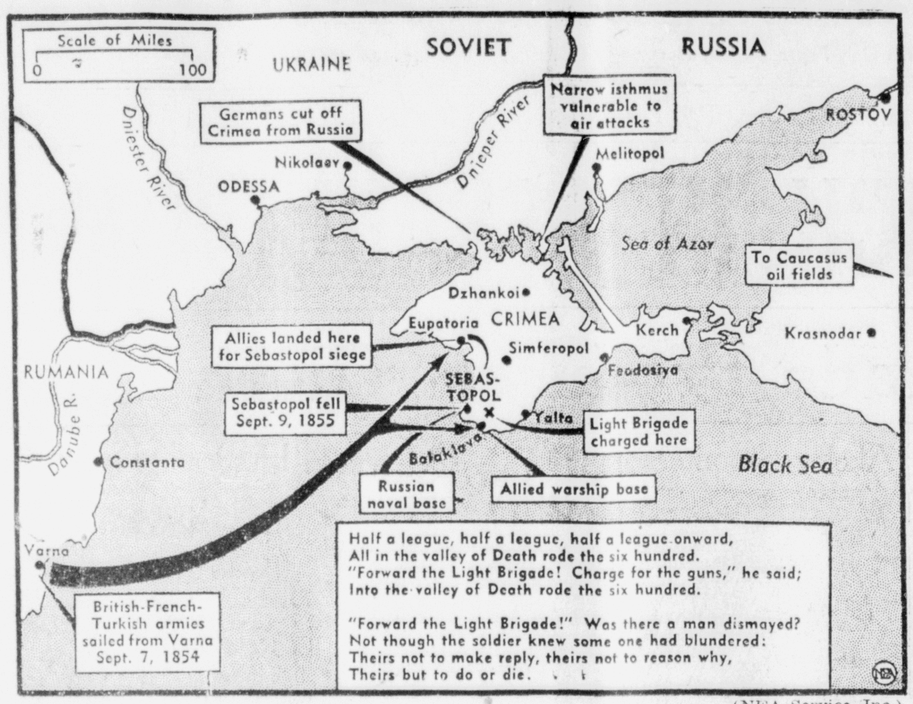
War Comes to Crimea Again After 87 Years



(NEA Service, Inc.)

History may repeat itself with a second siege of Sebastopol as German troops pour into the Russian Crimea. The difference is that in the Crimean War of 1854-55, immortalized by Kipling's "Charge of the Light Brigade," allied armies invaded by sea, as shown on the map, while Nazis now attack by land.

The first patent for an electric headlight for locomotives was issued in 1881.

OBITUARY

MRS. EMIL ERICKSEN

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Emil Ericksen, 612 Conewango avenue, were held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Frederick Drake, pastor of the Calvary Pentecostal church of Jamestown, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Colvin sang "When the Gates Swing Outward Never" and "Inside the Eastern Gate." Interment was made in Oakland cemetery with the following acting as bearers: Julius Johnson, Leslie Colvin, F. A. Mitchell, Peter Johnson, Joseph Gibson and Chris Lind.

Here from away to attend the services were Mrs. Christine West, Chicago, Ill.; Rev. and Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanson, Kenneth Hanson, John W. Johnson and Mrs. R. Sundell, Jamestown, N. Y.

MRS. HERBERT JONES

Emma Jones, wife of Herbert Jones, 11 South Carver street, passed away at the Warren General Hospital at one o'clock on Thursday afternoon, following several weeks' illness. She was a member of the Woman's Benefit Association of Salamanca, N. Y., and of Warren Chapter, Women of the Moose.

Besides her husband, she leaves one brother, Henry Anderson, of Seymour, Ind.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, from where services will be held at five o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. A. Davidson, pastor of the First Baptist church. The funeral party will then go to Erie, to entrain for Shelbyville, Ind., where funeral services and interment will take place.

ANNA SABAT

Sheffield, Sept. 26—Funeral services for Miss Anna Sabat will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. Michael's church and will be followed by burial in St. Michael's cemetery. Due to the illness of Rev. Rakovsky, regular pastor of the church, the services will be conducted by an Erie clergyman.

TIMES TOPICS

MEDICAL MEETING

The 36th annual meeting of the Eighth District Branch of the Medical Society of the State of New York will be held on Thursday, October 2, in the Hotel Jamestown at Jamestown, N. Y., it was announced today. Several outstanding physicians are on the program, which opens at 9:30 a. m. and continues throughout the day. Special entertainment has been provided for the ladies.

U. B. MEETING

Important business is to be transacted at the meeting of the official board of the United Brethren church, planned at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, and every board member is asked to be present. The first quarterly meeting of the new conference year will be held at the church Wednesday evening at 7:30, conducted by Dr. S. Paul Weaver, of Jamestown, Erie Conference superintendent, who will have a special message for all officers.

JOYCE ARDITH MYERS
Sheffield

Campaigning is Joyce Ardith's watchword from now until the last vote is in and counted in the Warren Times-Mirror famous Baby Election, and it is a foregone conclusion that this pretty little miss will have her share of followers. Joyce is the 13-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Myers, Sheffield, and has large brown eyes and an abundance of brown hair. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers, of Sheffield and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Heald, of Warren, are proud grandparents, while Mrs. C. W. Heald, of Warren, is her great-grandmother. Joyce is especially fond of "drumming" on grandmother's piano—and she also likes to "drum" up baby votes—but in large numbers. Will she take the huge loving cup to Sheffield?

TIMES TOPICS

RUMMAGE SALE

It was announced today that the rummage sale, being conducted by the C. D. of A. in the Morell building, Pennsylvania avenue, west, will continue all day Saturday. Special bargains are being offered, it was stated.

FORMER DIRECTRESS

Miss Veronica Stapleton, of the Emergency Hospital at Annapolis, Md., and formerly directress of nurses at the Warren General Hospital, returned home late last evening after attending the graduating exercises on Wednesday and the dinner-dance given for the graduates last evening.

OIL PRODUCER DIES

Dr. W. J. Fredericks, 76, oil producer and prominent retired physician at Bradford, died Wednesday. A native of Burgettstown, he was graduated from Washington and Jefferson College and Jefferson Medical College. He practiced medicine in Bradford from 1902 to 1928.

HEAR PROTESTS

The State Milk Control Board in Erie yesterday heard protests from three women's organizations against the increase in the price of milk from 12 to 14 cents a quart. Representatives of the League of Women Voters, the College Women's Club and the Parent-Teachers Association asserted the increases were unjustified.

AT DENTAL MEET

Dr. Frank Cummins, of the Warren State Hospital staff, was among the many attending the fall meeting of the Ninth District, Pennsylvania Dental Society, at the Lake Shore Golf Club at Erie Wednesday evening. The featured speaker was Dr. Norman C. Denner, of Cleveland, O., and Dr. Robert Rist, leaving for army service, was presented a gift. Dr. J. B. Balthaser, of Erie, is retiring president of the Ninth District Society, the new name for the old Lake Erie Dental Society. Dr. Holstein, of Grove City, is the new president.

articles or materials is deemed detrimental to the interest of national defense."

On the basis of a continuing study of economic affairs in the other American republics, the new list includes firms charged with "acting as 'cloaks' for effecting transactions with firms already on the proclaimed list."

Many of the firms already on the "black list" have suffered severely, it was said, even to the extent of being forced to close, for they were dependent on supplies from the United States.

Shortage of raw materials and skilled labor are hampering the automotive industry of Japan, the Department of Commerce says.

ARLISS NEGLECTS TO REGISTER SECURITIES

London, Sept. 26—(AP)—George Arliss, veteran English stage and screen star, was fined £4,500 (about $18,000) today after pleading guilty "subject to mitigating circumstances" to a charge of negkleeting to register United States and Canadian securities with the Bank of England.

In addition Arliss, who appeared in court to "repudiate the charges while technically pleading guilty, also was fined ten guineas (about $42 costs).

Arliss was charged with failing to register securities valued at £13,160 (about $52,000), and the crown prosecutor, F. D. Barry, had declared the actor was liable to a fine of £39,480 (about $158,000).

WINDSORS LEAVE FOR RANCH NEAR CALGARY

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor arranged a new round of official calls today before leaving for a vacation on his Canadian ranch with his American-born duchess.

Washingtonians received the famous pair with enthusiasm. Everywhere they went, peering, cheering crowds gathered. Government clerks hung precariously from windows and building ledges to see them; pretty girls showered the duke with confetti; police battled crowds in corridors when the duke entered government buildings.

The titled couple planned to leave by train (1:50 p. m., EST) for the duke's ranch near Calgary, Alberta.

BOOTLEG MINERS ASK TO BE GIVEN JOBS

Harrisburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—A delegation of bootleg anthracite demanded today that free lance miners, calling on state officials, members be given jobs in legitimate workings before their makeshift holes are dynamited shut.

The demand was voiced to the state department of mines and was immediately referred by Secretary Richard Maize to the anthracite emergency committee.

Under the committee's orders, four bootleg holes in Schuylkill and Northumberland counties were sealed this week.

Clarendon

Clarendon, Sept. 20—The members of the choir of the Methodist church held a farewell party for two of their members—Earl Campbell and Mary Jane McCool last Monday evening in the church parlors. Several reels of pictures were shown by Edmund Bimber. Games were played and a delicious lunch served. The evening was concluded with a handkerchief shower for these two young folks who left later in the week, Earl for college at Houghton, N. Y., and Mary Jane at DuBois.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 26—(AP)—Renewed buying lifted wheat prices more than a cent a bushel early today and other grains followed. Soybeans were up about 2 cents.

Traders attributed most of the buying to professionals covering short sales made yesterday.

Opening 3/8-5/8 higher, December 1.21¾-7/8, May 1.25⅞-1.26 wheat later advanced further. Corn started unchanged to ¼ up, December 81 3/8-½, May 96¾-5/8.

DISLOCATED WRIST

Ebert Hartman, 28, of Rew, who is employed by a construction firm engaged in dismantling the Conewango refinery here, suffered a dislocation of the left wrist yesterday afternoon when he caught his arm between two pieces of iron. He was brought to the Warren General Hospital for treatment and later was discharged.

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN CHURCH SCHOOL

Much general interest has been manifested in the seven schools of weekday religious education planned by religious and educational leaders of the community, and today announcement is made of the personnel in charge of the classes.

The schools, their location, enrollment and instructors are as follows:

First Lutheran—St. Paul's Lutheran at the former, 174 enrolled, Rev. Edward K. Rogers and Rev. Bertil Edquist, pastors.

Tiphereth Israel Congregation, in the synagogue with six enrolled, Dr. Hans Kronheim.

Church of the Nazarene—Free Methodist, at the Nazarene church with 71 enrolled, Mrs. Harry Cowles and Mrs. Robert Shoff, the latter of Corydon.

First Evangelical, in its own sanctuary with 21 enrolled, Rev. J. C. Wygant.

Holy Redeemer Roman Catholic, in its own sanctuary with 99 enrolled, Father M. E. Dailey.

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic, in the parochial school with 162 enrolled, Father Edward Jacobs, dean; Sisters M. Baptiste, Marie Therese, M. Bernardine and M. Pancratia.

Warren Community Protestant School, with 616 enrolled from Calvary Baptist, Bethlehem Congregational, Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed, Epworth Methodist, First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Grace Methodist, Salem Evangelical, Salvation Army, Trinity Memorial Episcopal and United Brethren. Freshmen and sophomores are at the First Presbyterian, juniors and seniors at First Methodist.

Dr. Thomas E. Colley is dean for the First Methodist classes. Instructors for 121 in senor classes are Mrs. O. A. Pressel, R. W. Reynolds, S. R. Schieb and Mrs. Ralph Sires; juniors, with 145, Mrs. Guy Cochran, Mrs. John G. Rossman, Jr., Mrs. John H. Stewart, Rev. John Bengtson, Rev. Arthur Sennewald and Rev. J. A. Davidson.

Dean at the First Presbyterian is Charles DeFrees, with Mary Craft and Mrs. H. P. Stone assisting. Sophomores have an enrollment of 152, with Mrs. Melvin Keller, Mrs. Clark Swift, Dorothy Schmidt, Mrs. R. W. Mackay, Mrs. B. J. Messerly and Mrs. B. F. Armstrong as teachers; freshmen, 198, and the following as instructors: Mrs. W. C. Sigworth, T. E. Eppley, Mrs. Kahle, Mrs. H. L. Overturf, Mrs. Althea Correll, Mrs. S. M. McClure and Mary Craft.

Neither the Red nor the Blue armies fighting in the Louisiana war games could whip the chiggers. Sgt. C. W. Frost, member of the 57th Division, goes after the little red devils with sulphur.

Interesting Figures Concerning Y. W. C. A. Activities Presented

As the time approaches for the opening of the Y. W. C. A. Emancipation Campaign on Oct. 13, the work and place of the association in the community is being discussed more widely each day. As an aid to those who are endeavoring seriously and open-mindedly to determine the measure of civic responsibility which attaches to them as prospective contributors, a few facts gleaned from the Y. W. C. A. records should be of interest.

During the past season, there was an enrollment of 173 in the High School Girls' Club, with an attendance of 3,201. In the grade schools, the Girl Reserves had an enrollment of 301 and an attendance of 6,026. Three Business Girls' Clubs had an enrollment of 91, with 1,564 attendance. Religious, educational and recreational activities totaled 6,596 attendance.

As indicative of the extent to which the activities building is used as a community center, the impressive figure of 16,303 represents the attendance at meetings of various groups not a part of the regular Y. W. C. A. program activities.

There was an enrollment of 106 in the local Y. W. C. A. Girls' Camp during the past summer, and on one Sunday alone there were 207 visitors at the camp.

The employment bureau, which makes no charge whatsoever, found positions for 162 girls and women. When in addition the discovery is made that 16 received traveler's aid, 46 were given lodging without charge, and 63 free meals were served, one is inclined to believe that our local Y. W. C. A. is really seeking to realize "in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians."

KIDDIE CAPE AND FROCK

Pattern 4715

By Anne Adams

What's news for tiny tots? Anne Adams says—a frock with its own cape, like Pattern 4715! This original design is a whole wardrobe in itself for any fashion-wise tiny miss. The princess dress has the side panels back and front cut on the bias for perfect fit and for an interesting effect when checked or striped fabric is used. Add the belt if you like. The top-stitched yokes are square necked with a button closing at the back. Both yokes and sleeves may be made of contrasting fabric, and there's optional, dainty lace edging at the neck and short puffed sleeves. The simply cut contrasting cape has only three pattern pieces. Both cape and dress are quickly made with the Sewing Instructor.

Pattern 4715 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, cape, takes 1¼ yards 54 inch fabric and dress, 2¼ yards 35 inch fabric.

SECURITY BOARD REPRESENTATIVE COMING MONDAY

A representative of the Erie field office of the Social Security Board will make his regularly scheduled visit to Warren on September 29th, it was announced today by Bernard A. Farabaugh, manager.

Office hours will be held in the State Employment office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. for the convenience of residents of Warren and vicinity.

The representative will give information and assist employers and employees or other interested persons on any matters pertaining to the Social Security Act. New employers may file application with him for employer's identification numbers and employees for social security account numbers.

Wage earners who are sixty-five or older and wish to retire, and the widows and families of wage earners who have died, are invited to call for information and assistance in filing claims for social security payments.

Mr. Farabaugh stated that this part time office service is maintained regularly in Warren every Monday. The next date will be October 6th.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
Times-Mirror—

Twenty-four years ago next May nine ships, the U. S. S. Aroostock, Quinnebaug, Saranac, Housatonic, Canonicus, Shawmut, Roanoke, Canadaigua, and Baltimore had a rendezvous at Invergordon (base 17) and Inverness (base 18) with their flagship the U. S. San Francisco. The meeting took place on May 27th, 1918.

This collection of ships, all Atlantic Coast banana ships or pleasure ships, left the United States from different points after being reconditioned and became known as the Suicide Fleet. In reality it was Atlantic Mine Squadron Number One.

Every one of the personnel realized the danger of their mission and never expected to return to this country alive because if one ship was hit by a shell or a torpedo it would have destroyed the whole fleet. Nevertheless the fleet completed their operations by making thirteen excursions into the North Sea to plant 56,571 of 57,470 mines planted during the World War by the United States Navy. They completed the greatest engineering feat ever attempted so thoroughly that it completely bottled up the German fleet and their submarines.

During these operations the personnel of the fleet numbered about 4,500 officers and men, including the men at Base 17 and 18. Since that time a good many have passed on, others have continued serving our country in the U. S. Navy and still others are back in private life raising families.

No doubt there are some men of this fleet of twenty-four years ago who would like to contact some old shipmates and talk over old times. For this reason The North Sea Mine Force Association was formed. This Association is comprised of all who took part in the assembling of mines in Scotland, the crew of the minelayers and the crew of the minesweepers.

The Association meets once a year, prints a roster of its membership for its members and publishes a magazine of interest to its crew. The dues are $1.00 per year and is a non-profit organization. Any eligible men are requested to contact Shipmate H. G. Cragg, of Corry, Pennsylvania.

CABLE JOB PICTURED

Two pages in the current issue of the "Telephone News," journal of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, carry photographs of the 40-mile cable job from Kane to DuBois, final link in a storm-resisting network between Pittsburgh and the New York state line. During the past few months a new right-of-way was cleared, 717 poles set and 211,035 feet of cable pulled through this stretch of country to replace 857 circuit miles of open wire. Long-span construction was used with poles averaging 310 feet apart. The cable will be placed under gas pressure when put in service this fall. The estimated gross cost on the big job is $231,000, or slightly more than a dollar per foot of cable pulled.

NURSERY SHELL

The bitterling fish lays its eggs on the pond mussel. The young hatch out in the mussel's gills and use its shell as a nursery.

HOME OF CHESS

More than 900 years ago, the game of chess was introduced to the town of Strobeck, Germany, by the count of Gungelin. Strobeck has since been known as "the home of chess."

OBSERVANCE OF COLUMBUS DAY BEING PLANNED

At last night's meeting of Warren Council, Knights of Columbus, plans were made for a fitting observance of Columbus Day, October 12.

This year the twelfth falls on Sunday, and the officers and committee in charge have decided to arrange for a mass and communion of members, followed by a communion breakfast. The local knights will attend the 8:45 Mass on Sunday, October 12, and following a breakfast will be serv- by the Sodality in the school hall.

A program is being arranged for and as the principal speaker, John A. Redding, of Osceola Mills, past state deputy, has been secured. Mr. Redding is a speaker of no mean ability and those in charge of the event feel they are extremely fortunate in securing his services for the occasion.

Other important matters were acted upon at last night's meeting of Warren Council, prominent among them being degree work, to be exemplified upon a class of candidates in the very near future.

Tonight the K. of C. bowling league gets under way and promises to be most successful.

DENTAL PREXY

Dr. Fred Holstein, of Grove City, was elected president of the Ninth District Pennsylvania Dental Society in Erie Wednesday evening. He succeeded Dr. J. B. Balthaser, of Erie. The ninth district takes in Erie, Crawford, Lawrence, Mercer and Venango counties.

ACCIDENTS INCREASE

The Department of Labor and Industry reports that accidental injuries in printing, publishing and allied industries showed a substantial reduction in 1940. Among 473 firms including 143 newspaper publishers, there was an accident frequency rate of 9.74 and a severity of .43 in 1940, compared with 9.74 and .462 in 1939, the department reports.

DAMAGE AT ERIE

Considerable property damage was done by high winds, aftermath of a storm over the western plains, which swept through northwestern Pennsylvania yesterday. At Erie telephone poles and lines, trees and signboards were blown down and windows smashed. The wind reached a velocity of 65 miles an hour in sections of Erie county. Planes were grounded at the Erie and Meadville airports.

MEETING CANCELLED

Word has been received here that due to a change in plans, Judge Michael Musmanno, of Pittsburgh, who was scheduled to speak at the court house next Monday evening, will not be able to appear on that date. However, it is expected that he will speak here at a later date.

REPORTED ILL

B. P. Marsh is reported quite ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carl Tower, Warren R. D. 3, many relatives and friends will learn with regret.

FALL SUGGESTION

Leaves which are raked from lawns between the sidewalk and curb should be piled on the edge of the lawn and not pushed into the street, it was pointed out today by Police Chief George Haehn. The street department will then be able to take away the leaves. If they are pushed into the street, rain is likely to wash the leaves into sewers and interfere with the catch-basins.

COMPLETES SCHOOL

According to word received here today, Corp. Robert O. Carlson, son of Mrs. O. C. Carlson, 440 Conewango avenue, was graduated recently from the propeller course of the Chanute Field branch of the U. S. Army Air Corps technical schools at Rantoul, Ill. Carlson, who enlisted in the air corps November 4, 1940, is assigned to Mitchel Field, New York.

NEW CHEF

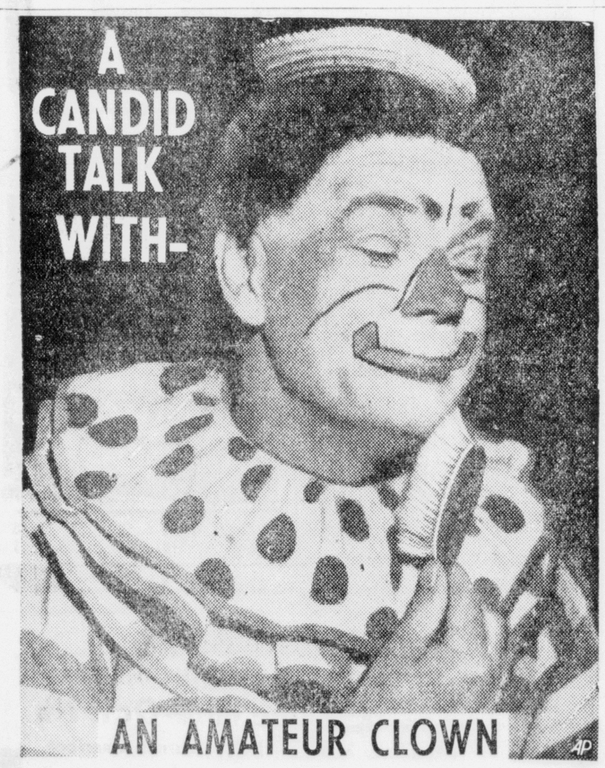
Announcement was made today that a new chef has been engaged by McCabe's restaurant, 242 Pennsylvania avenue, west. He is Elmer Dodd, formerly of the White Inn at Fredonia. Tomorrow the popular restaurant will have on the menu chicken and turkey dinners and also sea foods.

RELIEF PAYMENTS

Direct relief payments made to needy Warren countians during the week ended Wednesday show a decrease of $9 from those of the previous week, according to State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner. Payments for the week totaled $184, which was $737 lower than those of the comparable week of last year. Current payments required 111 fewer checks than those of a year ago.

WAGE HIKE ENDS STRIKE

Ending their eight-day strike, 45 employes of two chemical plants in Custer City, returned to work today under an agreement providing a blanket 25 per cent wage increase. The agreement, signed yesterday, also recognized the Powder and High Explosives Workers of America, an AFL union, as sole bargaining agent. The plants are those of the Custer City Charcoal Milling Company and the Custer City Chemical Company.



WHO HE IS

HARPER JOY, middle-aged and round of stomach, is vice-president of an investment banking firm at Spokane, Wash. He was on the stage three years before settling down.

For 50 weeks of the year he makes important decisions, tends to business and stays right at home. Then he hops into an airplane, joins one of the big circuses and becomes a full-fledged, mammoth-footed and big-nosed clown.

For two weeks he lives and travels with the circus. The other clowns—there were 50 of them in the show with him this year—help him on with his costumes and grease paint; they slap him on the back and say "Go out there and slay 'em, Harper." They even invite him to "pull a gag" in their own acts. This has been going on for 11 years.

Harper is married and has three young children. They don't go with him on his annual excursions but they always see the circus when it comes to Spokane.

"This has been a great circus year. I've had a lot of fun. People are war-shocked. On all sides, in their every-day lives, the war hems them in. It is a specter that hovers constantly within their minds.

"Naturally they seek a diversion that will take them for a moment from the shadow of unhappy things that are happening. Well, that's the kind of an audience that has come this year to the circus. They wanted to laugh till the tears rolled down their cheeks.

"They were appreciative. They applauded vigorously. The corniest kind of slap-stick brought laughs. As a matter of fact, the oldest and the simplest tricks drew the greatest applause. Of course we gave new twists to the old slap-stick stuff, but it was old stuff just the same.

"Felix Adler, perhaps the best known clown in the business, says he has detected the same sort of mood in the many audiences that he has clowned before in all parts of the nation.

"This appreciativeness and applause gives a clown, or any actor, a good warm glow inside himself and leads him on to pull all his best tricks out of the bag.

"For ten days this season I even forgot the war myself. I never listened to a radio; never looked at a newspaper, not even the financial section. It was great.

"You know, it's the gypsy life that attracts me. Playing in one town today; another 400 miles away tomorrow. I always am peering over the horizon and wondering what's on the other side.

"And, boy, the circus sure satisfies that gypsy urge!"

THE KINZUA RESERVOIR

Harry E. Anderson, senior engineer in the office of the United States engineer, at Pittsburgh, is quoted in dispatches as saying that despite rumors to the contrary there probably will be no work whatever done on the proposed $35,700,000 Allegheny reservoir at Kinzua until after the present emergency. He explains that under the Flood Control Act of 1941, Congress approved the project as a multiple purpose dam, both for flood control and abatement of river pollution, but that no funds of any sort were allocated for the work and it is not anticipated that any money will be directed toward the project during the present disturbed world conditions.

It was stated that when work finally gets under way it will take about three to three and one-half years to complete it, including the relocation of a branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, highways and resettlement of Indian reservations at Kinzua and Red House, the latter problem being up to the Department of Interior.

Anderson is quoted as saying that "it will be the largest flood control reservoir in the upper Ohio river basin, although the dam itself will not be particularly large."

The reservoir, when full, will cover an area of approximately 21,000 acres, extending from one and one-half miles below Kinzua, to Salamanca, N. Y., a distance of about 33 miles. Gross capacity has been set at about 1,250,000 acre-feet, which is described as an area of one acre covered by water one foot deep. It will be of concrete gravity type, with a controlled center spillway, and will be 1,792 feet long, rising to a height of 159 feet at what engineers describe as "reservoir full."

It is further explained that when work is begun on the project the first step to be taken will be preparation of a definite project report, outlining engineering features preliminary to design, which would call for a detailed survey of the reservoir.

GETTING ALONG BETTER

Sage advice is embodied in an article in the current number of Your Life Magazine by Alice Crowell Hoffman. She observes:

You'll get along bettter—

If you remember that a man is as big as the things that annoy him.

If you try to do to others as you would have them do to you, and do not get discouraged if they fail sometimes.

If you remember that it is better to say something good about a bad man than something bad about a good man.

If you remember the Hindu proverb, "Help thy brother's boat across, and lo! thine own has reached the shore."

If you never meddle with a hornet or a man minding his own business.

If you remember that minds and parachutes function only when they are open.

To the officers and members of Warren Lodge No. 109, Loyal Order of Moose, we extend congratulations on the progressiveness they have displayed in installing four bowling alleys which are to be opened at their commodious building in Hickory street tomorrow.

One big headache at Internal Revenue Department headquarters in Washington is how to collect the new $5.00 automobile use tax. Latest idea is to do it through the federal post offices, so get ready to stand in line with a fiver in your hand for Uncle Sam.

Dispatches indicate that Warren escaped the worst of the tail end of the Texas hurricane that swept the east Thursday.

Wonder how many June bridegrooms in the county already have forgotten how to drive with one hand?

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—John Mulholland is as agile a trickster as ever reached into a sugarbowl and pulled out a rabbit. . . . His activities in legerdemain have included not only the business of baffling pop-eyed onlookers but extend even to the printed page. Magician Mulholland is an editor. He has a magazine called the Sphinx, devoted to the news and views of the profession.

Frequently he receives "subscriptions" from customers, saying, "Kindly send me the Sphinx for one year. My check for $2.50 is enclosed."

Only, the check isn't there. It's a gag that sometimes works, for editors have been known to add names to their mailing lists, hoping to collect later on.

The other day, however, Mulholland received a postcard from a reader who said his check was "enclosed" and would the magazine be forthcoming?

* * *

THERE used to be an old vaudeville gag, similiar to this, about the patron who wrote to a razor manufacturer in this vein: "Dear sir, please find my enclosed check for $5 for which you are to send me one of your Shave-Close special razors. PS: I forgot to enclose the check, but no doubt a firm of your standing won't mind a little matter like that."

The manufacturer replied: "My Dear Sir, we are delighted to receive your order and you are hereby notified that the Close-Shave Razor is included in this package: PS: We forgot to include the razor, but no doubt a man of your cheek won't miss it after all."

There is no telling where a variation of this yarn actually began. But there can be no doubt that people try to work them year after year. Mulholland has received at least half a dozen new "subscriptions" in which the "enclosed" check has failed to materialize.

* * *

IN a recent series on night clubs this column noted that the trend has been from "Hello Sucker" to "God Bless America." . . . This was an understatement. In recent weeks 90 per cent of the new floor shows have gone red, white and blue with a 48-star bang. It is almost impossible to walk into a supperclub without hearing a chorus of the Star Spangled Banner and the chorus girls likely as not will be doled out in Uncle Sam uniforms.

Harry Richman has a song that well illustrates this trend in recreational patriotism. . . . The song goes something like this: "I saw my Uncle the other day. . . . My old Uncle Sam. . . . He gets around. . . . He was holding back a flood on the Mississippi. . . . He was building some new houses over in the slums for some people who needed houses. He was harvesting the wheat and sending notes of cheer to the oppressed. . . . It went on like that. . . . The response to this number, when ever I heard it, has been unfailingly great.

Hervey Allen's new book will be published in three volumes—all long ones. He, if you recall, is the author of "Anthony Adverse," which began the current trend toward length in modern novels.

Joffre's Stand at Marne Stopped Drive on Paris

MARSHAL JOSEPH JOFFRE, who commanded the French army from the outbreak of the war in 1914 until 1917, was criticized in many quarters after the war for his generalship and tactics. He was called "the imposing edifice behind which other brains conspired" and the "man who nearly brought France to ruin."

Joffre, who was honored philatelically in the 1940 stamp above, made no effort to defend himself. He wrote a two-volume book of memoirs but refused to permit publication until his death.

When he died in 1931, the book was released. Joffre critics were silenced in large measure, for it was found that the marshal operated under tremendous handicaps.

The French army in 1914 was still suffering from rigor-mortis caused by the disastrous war of 1870. Staff work was intolerable and the calculations of the war plans division proved poor.

Joffre, who was 62 at the outbreak of the war, is best known for his miraculous stand at the Marne, which stopped the German advance and saved Paris.

Peach Tapsy Tarty Dessert

2 cups sliced peaches
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup water
½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 beaten egg
½ cup milk

Mix peaches, brown sugar, cinnamon, lemon juice and water. Pour into buttered shallow baking dish and cover with rest of ingredients, combined and beaten a minute. Bake 35 minutes in moderate oven.

Cranium Crackers

TIMELY TOPICS

Time and tide wait for no man, but they make good subjects for quizzes. There's no time like the present to clock yourself on this one.

1. What time is it in Moscow when it's 10 a. m. (standard time) in New York?
2. If your clock was a compass with 12, north, what time would it be if the hour hand was pointed southwest and the minute hand east?
3. What is the usual cause of a tidal wave?
4. What is the difference between flood tide and ebb tide?
5. What time is it aboard ship at three bells, six bells and eight bells.

Answers on Page 8

Sixteenth century armour makers discovered that fluting metal gave it strength and rigidity without adding weight, a principle used today with corrugated iron and girders.

Tests show that 47.13 per cent of 130,000 draftees in Uncle Sam's new army are above normal intelligence, as compared with 31 per cent of the population in general.

PIONEER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES AFTER ILLNESS

Death claimed one of Warren's oldest and best known citizens when August A. Riwa, of 8 West Fifth avenue, passed away at the Warren General Hospital at 1:45 o'clock this morning following an illness of six months' duration. He was aged 81 years.

Born in Warren, October 29, 1859, Mr. Riwa spent his entire life in this community. He was one of the last of Warren's citizens whose lives were linked directly with the early development of the borough.

During his early life he operated a wood-working shop at his home. Later he became a partner in the Riwa and Stevens Grocery, which was located at 228 Pennsylvania avenue, west. After Mr. Stevens retired from the business, Mr. Riwa conducted the business for a number of years. He retired from the grocery business about 25 years ago, after having been connected with it for about 20 years.

Following his retirement from the grocery business, Mr. Riwa was employed for a time at the Warren Furniture Company.

Mr. Riwa was a member of Warren Lodge, No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, and the Order of Maccabees.

He is survived by three daughters, Miss Ida Riwa, at home; Mrs. Earl Dorrance, of Warren, and Mrs. John Broderick, of Virginia Beach, Va. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. George L. Keller, Mrs. Bertha Meas, and Mrs. Imogene Gardineer, all of Warren; one brother, O. J. Riwa, of Mayville, N. Y., and one granddaughter, Joyce Dorrance, of Warren.

Funeral services will be held from the family home, 8 West Fifth avenue, on Monday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Edward Rogers officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

HOLD RECEPTION FOR MINISTER AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 26.—Nearly two hundred guests were present Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Methodist church dining room to welcome back for a second year of service Rev. and Mrs. Dwight Jack and Miss Dorothy Jack. Bouquets of flowers from local gardens were used in decoration and the tables were most attractive and all enjoyed a bountiful dinner with the closing course ice cream and cake.

The speakers' table was placed at the end of the room and among those seated there were two guest pastors and their wives Rev. and Mrs. Charles McIntyre, of the United Brethren church, and Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Johnson, of the Lutheran church.

Paul Getts acted as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Rev. McIntyre. Following the dinner a group of songs were sung under the leadership of Miss Lilly Wood. Mr. Getts spoke a few words of welcome, not only to the returning pastor, but to all guests present.

A vocal solo was sung by Donald Aberg and a clarinet number given by George Walters. Miss Reba Metzger sang a group of songs, including the "Lord's Prayer" set to music. A piano solo was given by Miss Janet Jones.

Greetings to Rev. and Mrs. Jack expressing the cordial welcome which is felt by all the church organizations and by the community were given from the following: The Sunday school, represented by Miss Goldia Hill; the choir, represented by Mrs. Mable Davis who gave her greeting, in rhyme to Mrs. Jack, who is the director of the choir. Mrs. H. H. Husted, for the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and Donald Haupin for the Epworth League.

After a solo by Miss Lilly Wood, Charles Briggs, one of the lay delegates, brought greetings from the recent annual conference in Meadville. Rev. Mr. Johnson of the Lutheran church brought greetings. Mrs. Johnson was also introduced and spoke briefly. Charles Spencer, speaking for the board of trustees, presented an electric clock as a gift from the church. Rev. and Mrs. Jack responded most sincerely. The program closed with singing and benediction.

BRIEFS

The W. Y. W. Club were entertained at a 7 o'clock dinner Monday evening at the home of Miss Callie Mead, of Warren.

Miss Maye Hooven entertained her club Friday evening at a six o'clock dinner honoring the birthday of Mrs. Edna Wood.

The Rebekahs are holding another bake sale and rummage sale next Saturday, Sept. 27th, in the rooms formerly occupied by the Ed Day shoe store.

There is no school in Youngsville Friday as the teachers are at county institute in Warren.

The high school band under the direction of Byron Swanson gave a half hour concert as a feature of the directors meeting held in the court house in Warren on Thursday.

Mrs. Florence Crispell is now spending a part of each week with her son in Youngsville. She is a former resident whose home is now in Jamestown, N. Y.

Sheffield News

Sheffield, Sept. 25—Sixteen members of the Rotary Club, including one admitted to membership that day, were present at the regular luncheon meeting held Tuesday noon in the Home Cottage Inn. The new member was L. O. Eisenhauer, high school principal.

C. H. Whittaker, local merchant, gave a talk on "The General Store", comparing and contrasting present day establishments with those of 20 and more years ago.

Glen Belknap, president, conducted the meeting.

REBEKAH REUNION

The second reunion of Katherine Rebekah Lodge of this community will be held Saturday evening, Oct. 4, in the American Legion Home. The event will begin with a picnic dinner at 6 p. m. Invitations have been mailed to the members by Mrs. Ammie Andrews, secretary of the reunion association, and the response to date indicates that the attendance this year will better that of last year's inaugural reunion.

PERSONALS

Dr. Clifford Nelson, local dentist who several days ago suffered an ankle fracture in a fall, is able to be about and has resumed his practice. It will be several days, however, before the heavy cast in which the injured ankle is encased will be removed.

Mrs. John Evan and Mrs. Bertha Peterson, accompanied by the latter's mother and a lady friend, arrived home today from a week's vacation trip to Detroit and points of interest in Canada.

ARMY TAKES 51,380

The state Selective Service system, one year old, discloses it has inducted 51,380 men into the army in that time. The organization was set up before the first registration of men between 21 and 36 last October 16. Dr. William Mather Lewis, selective service head, says that volunteers have given more than 1,000,000 man hours of their time "to the service of their country."

Four new bowling alleys, recently installed by Warren Lodge, No. 109, Loyal Order of Moose, for the enjoyment of members of the organization will be formally opened at a special program to be held on Saturday evening and Sunday, it was announced today by officials of the organization.

The alleys, among the finest in this section, have been installed in the basement of the Moose Temple, Hickory street, at great expense and are expected to add much to the completeness of the facilities of the club for the members.

The new bowling alleys will be open for the inspection of the public on Sunday afternoon, September 28th, between the hours of 3 and 6 p. m., it was announced.

As special features of the formal opening, matches among several Moose bowling teams of the district have been arranged for the week-end. Eight teams will compete in matches on Saturday evening, with eight others to participate in Sunday afternoon events.

Heart Full of Gratitude

Mooseheart represents the greatest humanitarian service of the Loyal Order of Moose. Indeed, it is doubtful if any other organization equals its service to underprivileged children. The richness of its rewards in serving the needy is best shown by the fullness and sincerity of expression of appreciation from those who have benefitted by its services. Here is a typical letter from a widowed mother, who has lived at Mooseheart many years and has seen her family grow up to be good and useful citizens:

May 5, 1941.

Honorable James J. Davis
Director General, Loyal Order of Moose
Dear Mr. Davis:

This beautiful day makes me realize that spring and graduation are near. In the year 1924, you and our good Mooseheart Governors were kind enough to allow me to come and live with my family here, and what a lovely family you have helped me to raise. Jimmy is with a law firm in Washington and there are three girls working their way through college, Junior and Sophomore years: six intelligent children, who, without a doubt, would be out of school doing odd jobs to earn their bread and butter, had it not been for our beloved Moose Lodge. Surely no Moose need ever be afraid of death or the hereafter if he only had a part in rearing just one family like mine—but, there are hundreds of thousands.

My boy, the baby, who was one year old when he came to Mooseheart and just three weeks old when his Daddy died and left me helpless, will follow in the footsteps of the others and will continue his education after he has worked.

Mr. Davis, I love Mooseheart. Every blade of grass looks good to me. I have made some of the finest friends here and I am more attached to the people who have helped me raise my famliy than I am to my own people. My children thing of Superintendent Leinweber as a father. He certainly takes a personal interest in each and every child. Miss McDowell and the Dietician, Miss Bartholomew, have never told me at any time that my work was not done properly. I have been congratulated on various occasions. Nevertheless, I do not know what graduation will mean to me, whether I have to leave now or what the outcome will be. But I can say, thank you and God bless you. As for the staff, they are lovely to me and are the finest people I have ever met. Mr. Leinweber taught my children and many others in high school. He is an inspiration for any child to live by.

Jimmy tells me that it surely is a joy to meet and occasionally talk with Mr. John Meikle in Washington. Jimmy feels proud when he realizes that this fine young man, too, was a graduate of Mooseheart.

Aren't you proud, Mr. Davis, of the wonderful work you have done? We certainly are all proud of you and we Normans do thank God that He gave the world you, and that you inspired the world to build Mooseheart.

Pardon this long letter, but my heart is full of gratitude.

Sincerely,
MRS. BERTHA NORMAN,
A Mooseheart Mother.

Loyal Order of Moose

The Loyal Order of Moose was founded in 1888 by Dr. J. H. Wilson in Louisville, Ky. The first lodge was organized in Cincinnati. The Supreme Lodge is the governing body. The chief purpose of the order is social and there is no obligation to buy insurance or provide sick or death benefits, although these features are included. A home and vocational school for orphans and dependents of members of the order are located on a farm of 1000 acres at Mooseheart, near Aurora, Ill. There are more than 1,600 lodges with a membership of nearly 600,000.

HELD UP IN AUTO

T. L. Miller, Erie man, reported to police he was robbed of $291 early yesterday when two men flagged down his automobile on an east side street. Miller said the pair got in the machine with him, rode two blocks and then forced him out.

TO ATTEND SESSION

Loren E. Bidwell, local borough police officer, will be among eight western Pennsylvania policemen who will attend the annual retraining session of the National Police Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington during the week of October 6, it was announced yesterday. Chief Edward V. Edmonds, of the Bradford police force, will also be among the group.

TWO ARE INDICTED

Two officials of the EPCO Manufacturing Company, a South Bend, Ind. concern, were indicted by a federal grand jury in Erie Wednesday on three counts of a charge of using the mails to defraud in a sales promotion in which two western Pennsylvania men were purported victims. Worthe Haynes, president, and J. G. Ritter, general sales manager, were the officials against whom the indictment was returned. Harmon C. Smith, Meadville, and Louis C. Kepple, Wilkinsburg, were the victims of the fraudulent procedure.

World's Most Famous Graduating Class

On June 14, at the child city of Mooseheart, famed home and school for underprivileged children, established and maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose, one of the world's leading fraternities, a class of 72—47 boys and 25 girls—will graduate. This is the twenty-third graduation at this famous academic and vocational school. The total number of graduates is now 1,535. This year's graduates come from 25 states, and 1 Province in Canada. Illinois ranks first—11 graduates; Pennsylvania second—10; Ohio third—9, and Indiana fourth—8. The average age of the graduates is 18 years, 3 months, and their average number of years residence in Mooseheart is 10 years, 4 months. In addition to the high school diploma which each graduate will receive, a certificate specifying the nature of the technical, trade, or vocational instruction in the work in which he or she has been trained, is also given. Twelve trades and vocations are represented in this class. Certain of the graduates plan to enter higher schools of learning.

Home and School

The Moose Child City of Mooseheart, founded July 27, 1913, by U. S. Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, is an estate of twelve hundred acres, thirty-five miles west of Chicago. Title is in the Supreme Lodge of the World, Loyal Order of Moose. It is a home and school for almost a thousand normal children of deceased members of the Order. Instruction in about twenty trades, including agriculture, is given.

Mooseheart represents an investment of more than TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS. Its administration calls for an annual budget of almost ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

The educational concept of Mooseheart is to take full account of the needs and capacities of the individual child and fit the instruction to that individual, to the end that he may best adjust himself to a complex, changing social and physical environment.

Lowest Mortality Rate

Mooseheart's health service is primarily a service of preventive medicine. As a part of this service, Mooseheart has one of the most complete modern hospitals in the country, to which the children are admitted for observation and treatment. The health records of Mooseheart show that its mortality rate is lower than that of any institution of its kind in the world.

Mooseheart's dairy farm covers one thousand, one hundred and fifty-seven acres. Its maintenance is largely for the purpose of providing Mooseheart children with the necessary foodstuffs. Mooseheart's farm pays big dividends, both in the health of the children and in financial profit. It is considered to be one of the greatest farms in the State of Illinois.

SALEM CHURCH HAS RECEPTION FOR MINISTER

A largely attended reception was held last evening in the Salem Evangelical church to compliment and welcome the pastor, Rev. S. R. Schieb, who is returned with his family for another year's service in the local parish.

Ernest Huber, Sunday school superintendent, was in charge of a program which included devotions, two lovely poems read by Miss Ruth Ackert and a solo, "Bless This House," by Henry Baldensperger.

Greetings were extended by Rev. J. C. Wygant, pastor of the First Evangelical church, and O. R. Pang, who is Sunday school superintendent of that parish.

To conclude, Gust Ristau, president of the board of trustees of Salem church, presented the honored guests with a handsome coffee table from the group.

All were then invited to the social rooms, where refreshments were served from a most attractively decorated table.

TEACHERS NAME PSEA OFFICERS AT INSTITUTE

Annual meetings of the Warren and Forest county branches of the Pennsylvania State Education Association were held at the conclusion of this morning's session of the annual teachers' institute, which open last evening in the local high school auditorium and closes this evening.

At the Warren county meeting, the following officers were elected: President, D. J. Howard, Sheffield; vice president, Carl W. Johnson, Starbrick; secretary-treasurer, Marie Pearce, Eldred township; delegates to state convention, Clair Cowles, Lottsville, and Mrs. Anna B. Shawkey, Stoneham; member of district legislative council, Marie Harrington, Russell; auditors, Archie Hunter, Stoneham, and John Reddecliff, North Warren.

Forest county officers are: President, Kenneth Snyder, Tionesta; vice president, H. C. Seigworth, Tionesta; secretary-treasurer, Elizabeth Bowman, Tionesta; auditors, Richard Stewart, Marienville, and Carl Linborg, Hickory township; delegates to state convention, Mr. and Mrs. Gill, Hickory township high school.

Approximately 275 teachers in the Warren and Forest county and Warren borough schools are attending the sessions.

Speakers at the opening session last evening were Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ church, New York, who delivered an inspiring message on the subject, "A Way Through," and Frederic Snyder, Kingston, N. Y., news commentator, whose subject was "Keeping Ahead of the Headlines."

Speakers this morning were Dr. Allan Stockdale, of New York, and Dr. Edgar G. Doudna, of Madison, Wis.

pete are Jamestown No. 1, Gowanda, Salamanca, and Warren. At nine o'clock the competitors will be Jamestown No. 2, Kane, Bradford and Johnsonburg.

Sunday afternoon's schedule, starting at two o'clock, will include teams from Erie, Titusville, St. Marys, Olean, Ridgway, DuBois, Clearfield and Conneaut, Ohio.

Construction of the new alleys has been one of the biggest improvement projects undertaken by the local Moose lodge in several years and is a credit to officers and members of the house committee who arranged the details.

Present officers of the lodge are C. D. Seekings, governor; J. E. Clark, junior governor; R. W. Nelson, junior past governor; H. P. Bearer, prelate; Harry Mintzer, sergeant at arms; Edward Stites, inner guard; Walter T. Kiser, secretary and club manager; Stewart E. Kuhre, treasurer; F. A. Yaegle, C. B. Mahood and Allen Wilson, trustees.

Members of the house committee are Gust Sandstrom, R. W. Nelson, Stewart E. Kuhre and Harry Mintzer.

The local lodge of Moose was chartered on March 3, 1910. There are eleven charter members of the organization still living. These include S. G. Anderson, Herman Kylander, E. E. Nelson, Ray Still, Harry J. Wilson, L. E. Engstrom and M. J. McMahon, all of Warren; W. S. Murray, of Kinzua; W. S. Thayer and A. Zeller, of North Warren, and N. L. Samuelson, of Akron, Ohio.

Rapid strides have been made by the organization since it was instituted and it is at present one of the leading fraternal organizations in this section. For many years it has been active in the civic life here and has been interested in the sports events of the community. The installation of the bowling alleys is additional evidence of its interests along this line.

Ceremony in Calvary Baptist Church Unites Inez Caroline Shellin and James M. Holmberg

Inez Caroline Shellin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Shellin, 517 Prospect street, became the bride of James M. Holmberg, son of Mrs. A. Holmberg, Beaty street, in a pretty candlelight service read at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in the Calvary Baptist church.

Rev. Martin Hamlin performed the ceremony before an evergreen arch that was flanked by palms and tall candelabra. Mrs. Frederick Olson, violinist, and Miss Margaret Blick, pianist, provided wedding music, playing "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin, "At Dawning" by Cadman and the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her cousin, Mrs. H. A. Backstrom, Jr., of Bradford, as matron of honor, and Miss Louise Courson, of Tidioute, as bridesmaid. The bride was lovely in a frock of white damasse, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long train, and her fingertip veil depended from a crown of seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet was of white gladioli. Mrs. Backstrom wore peach chiffon and Miss Courson's frock was of blue mousseline de soie. Each wore a Juliet cap and carried peach gladioli. Sandra Holmberg, niece of the bridegroom and little flower girl, wore yellow taffeta and carried a basket of Talisman roses.

H. A. Backstrom, Jr., was best man for Mr. Holmberg and ushers were Clarence Swanson and Atwood E. Drum.

Fall flowers were used in lovely decorations for the reception which followed in the church parlors. Table appointments were carried out with a large wedding ring of white asters and pink snapdragons and tall white tapers. The bride's mother received in a black and white ensemble and Mrs. Holmberg wore green, each with a shoulder corsage of white pompoms.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Olson and Doris Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Runquist, Norma Runquist, George Lininger and Miss Ethel Henderson, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Carlson, Janet Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nelson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brolin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gunard Danielson, Miss Constance Olsen, Mrs. Axel Nelson and Raymond Nelson, Mrs. Judith Lind, Miss Edith Oberg, Miss Mina Anderson, Miss Christine Frederickson, Miss L. Sampson, R. Carlson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mrs. Walfred Peterson, Lakewood, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Courson, Tidioute; Mr. and Mrs. Iner Olsen, Carlton Olsen, Youngsville.

For a wedding trip to the nation's capital, Mrs. Holmberg chose an ensemble of nvy and white. After October 1, the couple will reside at 352 East Fifth avenue. The bride is a graduate of Warren High School in the Class of 1934 and Mr. Holmberg is employed by the Crescent Furniture Company.

Those who have entertained for the bride-elect are Mrs. Leroy Holmberg, Philathea Class, Mrs. H. A. Backstrom, Jr., Miss Louise Courson, the Misses Gaghan, Mrs. Henry Wyman and Mrs. Merle Gaghan, Mrs. Robert Nystrom, the Misses Mildred Schramling, Margaret Hughes and Florence Danielson.

First Methodist Woman's Society Observes First Anniversary in Very Fitting Fashion

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church celebrated its first anniversary Thursday and opened its second year with a one o'clock luncheon in Founders hall.

Mrs. F. A. Wood, Mrs. Alan Templeton, Mrs. Fred Schuler and Mrs. N. J. Andersen were in charge of serving the large crowd which represented all the women's divisions of the church.

The business meeting and program took place in Dunham parlors, Mrs. J. J. Garber conducting devotions concerning the Christian search for justice and peace. Mrs. E. H. Trushel sang an accompaniment to Mrs. Garber's reading of a lovely poem, "Our Church," and closed with a beautifully expressed prayer of thanksgiving and hope.

Mrs. H. L. Norris, program chairman, presented the speaker, J. H. West, home service secretary of the Red Cross, who invited the audience to take an imaginary trip with him to one of the army camps. He described in detail the daily routine of training, from reveille to taps, and emphasized the need of Christian guidance for the boys in the form of proper and convenient places where they may seek relaxation and fellowship. It was brought out that although the Red Cross has for some time been functioning as intermediary between the camps and homes, it now is successfully keeping open the contacts from home to camp. Mr. West closed his very informative talk with a plea to all to remember the boys in camp, for "they are our country's defense."

The president, Mrs. E. S. Briggs, reminded members of the impressive service which took place just a year ago when the Woman's Society of Christian Service observed "Charter Night" and began the task of reorganizing the women's activities which formerly were assumed by the Ladies' Aid. She spoke of the perplexities which confronted every officer and worker under the new regime and how fortunate the church was in having a pastor who had so familiarized himself with the smallest detail of the prescribed workings of the society that he was able to guide and counsel every step of the way.

In appreciation of the splendid cooperation from the pastor, Mrs. Briggs presented to Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Colley a silver tea service from the society, with expression of its pleasure at his return to the pastorate for the coming year.

Dr. and Mrs. Colley responded, after which the latter reported on the recent Erie Conference WSCS convention held in Oil City, to which she and Mrs. Briggs went as delegates.

Mrs. E. C. Christensen read an interesting letter, written in the form of a diary, from Miss Carrie Kenyon, missionary to Malay, who has just returned to the mission field after a furlough in the states.

The first anniversary meeting was concluded when Mrs. Briggs presented Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp to lead the closing prayer.

Last Graduates of Hospital Nursing School Guests

Members of the 1941 graduating class of the Warren General Hospital school of nursing, the last to be graduated by the institution under new regulations, were complimented last evening with a dinner-dance given at the Woman's Club by the Warren General Hospital Alumni Association.

These honored guests were Frances Vivian Anderson, Anita Jean Bush and Bernice Elizabeth Miller, Kane; Minnie Alva Anderson, Wilcox; Margaret Marie Arminini, Brandy Camp; Dorothy Catherine Craker, Buffalo, N. Y.; Ellen Jane Rosequist and Grace Mae Yeager, Tidioute; June Elizabeth Cogswell, Geraldine Harriet Martin, Dorothy Ella Patchen, Delores Alma Thompson and Florence Ruth Zimbauer, of Warren.

The dinner table was most attractive in the appointment of red and white, the class colors, using white candles and red roses, the class flower. Program-favors in the same shades marked the 75 places.

Miss Pearl Lund gave the invocation and a welcome to the graduates was extended by Mrs. Nora Eaton, president of the alumni group. Dolores Thompson, class president, responded for her fellow-members.

Mrs. Eaton then presented the alumni's award for the highest average in theory and practice for three years to Anita Bush. Miss Edith Atkin, hospital superintendent, spoke briefly, and greetings were extended by Miss Marie Robertson, of Jamestown, N. Y., at one time local superintendent; also Miss Veronica Stapleton, of Annapolis, Md., former directress of nurses.

Other guests were Mrs. Edith Bemis Carter, Mrs. Mabel McCray and Mrs. Mary Kibler, Corry; Mrs. Adelaide Sigworth, Tionesta; Miss Julia Anderson, Mrs. Ola Valone, Jamestown.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing to the music of Orrie Beebe's Orchestra.

Silver Anniversary Of Charles Songers Is Occasion of Party

Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Curt" Songer, of North Warren, gathered at their home last evening to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary.

Among the guests were Mr. Songer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Songer, also of North Warren, who are each more than 80 years of age and have been married nearly 60 years. Also present were the four children of the couple, Beatrice, Sylvester, Charles and Jack.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Giltinan, Mr. and Mrs. George Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Erickson, Teresa Fagley, Jean Mauersburg, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gearhart, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bednies, Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fults, Harry Songer, John Connolly, Miss Julia Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mrs. Lillian Simmons, North Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Werner, Russell; Claire Potter, Youngsville.

A pleasant time was spent in playing five hundred, with prizes awarded to the following: Mrs. Conrad Anderson and Carl Werner, high; Mrs. Walter Bednies and Ray Fults, second; Jean Mauersburg and Walter Bednies, low.

A delightful luncheon concluded the evening and the honored guests were presented with lovely remembrances of the occasion, these including several bouquets of flowers and a purse of money. Messages were received from a number who were unable to be present.

CHURCH REVIVALS

FREE METHODIST CHURCH YOUNGSVILLE

Revival services are now in progress in the Youngsville Methodist church with Rev. O. R. Tessaro, of Greensburg, as evangelist. Rev. Tessaro will be with us until October 5 and will preach each evening, and three times on Sundays Sept. 28 and Oct. 5 at 11 a. m., 3 and 7:30 p. m. Rev. Tessaro is a converted salesman and has had a wide experience in public life. He will give his life story next Tuesday evening. There will be an early prayer service at 7 o'clock in the Sunday school room every evening during the revival.

The public is cordially invited.

AT PLEASANTVILLE

Rev. L. A. Shindledecker, pastor of the Pleasantville Methodist church, has asked the Times-Mirror to announce that Gipsy Simon Smith, internationally known evangelist, will hold special services there beginning Sunday, September 28.

Gipsy Smith has been addressing capacity audiences in the United States and Canada for some years. He was born in a gipsy camp, has crossed the ocean 45 times and was at one time a London cab driver.

The Pleasantville church feels exceedingly fortunate in getting the services of such a well known evangelist and invites all interested persons from surrounding communities. Services will be held Sundays at 10:30 and 7:30; week nights, except Saturdays, at 7:45. The series will continue until October 12.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), meanwhile, told reporters that he favored either complete repeal or substantial modification of the neutrality law.

Bridges said, however, that legislation to modify the law doubtless would command more votes than a proposal for complete repeal.

It generally was assumed that President Roosevelt would discuss the entire question of neutrality repeal or revision with his congressional leaders next Monday and would weigh well their advice on what legislation to recommend.

Kern's counsel sought an acquittal on grounds his client had not been properly identified by government witnesses.

Attorney Edward G. Petrillo, representing the other two defendants, Francis K. Spinley and John Simmons, of Buffalo, asked they be acquitted on a charge of conspiracy because they had not plotted the robbery, but had been told of the plans by John C. Archer, a fourth suspect, who was slain in Buffalo by FBI agents.

Meanwhile, the federal grand jury returned indictments against the lone survivor of three men who held up the First National Bank of Harrisville last Friday. Kenneth Palmer, 33, of Volant, who had served time for robbing a Volant bank 10 years ago, was charged with robbing Howard J. Cooper of $1,169 in checks and $103.08 in cash; with transporting four guns from Cleveland to Ellwood City in violation of the Interstate Commerce Act; with bank robbery, stealing $945 and theft of an automobile owned by Joseph Watkins Lawrence of Niles, O.

Earl Everts and Albert Feelo, the other two robbers who were killed in a gun battle at Ellwood City, were named with Palmer in a conspiracy charge. Palmer, shot in the legs, is in an Ellwood City hospital recovering from his wounds.

Other indictments included: Paul Jones Jacobs, Beaver, theft of an automobile; Melvin J. Abott, Smithson, forging government check; Michael Rufus Leckwatch, Walston, violating the Selective Service Act; Stewart Cassius Barber, a teller at Grove City national bank, three counts of embezzling $2,530.52 and two counts of making a false entry; Edward Nelson McFarland, Corry, stealing a car; Lavergne Anthony Davies, West Newton, impersonating a commissioned officer of the U. At the summer session of the national tournament at Asbury Park, the American Contract Bridge League has built an arena so that spectators may watch the games. No charge is made for admission to the arena. The league furnishes an announcer to introduce the players, explain who is vulnerable, call out the bidding, and so on.

On one occasion last summer, four of the big shots were playing in the arena and managed to reach one no trump on today's hand. As you can see, there is no play that will defeat three no trump, and to prove he was an expert, the declarer made four.

The announcer in the arena was Freddie Sheinwold. He immediately called out, "The declarer's contract was one no trump, which he made with three overtricks"—and a great round of applause came from the kibitzers. Little did they realize that by poor bidding, the expert had given himself a bottom score on the board.

Dummy won the first trick with the king and returned a low club for a finesse of the pack. The diamond queen was next finessed, and a low club return allowed South to pick up the club king with the ace. South then led a club to the queen, East discarding a spade.

On the heart return from dummy, the jack was finessed, and West took the heart king and returned the jack of spades. South won, cashed the club ten and heart ace, then led the spade. West could take his two spade tricks but then had to lead diamonds away from his king, giving declarer the last two tricks.

67th Annual Convention of Warren County W.C.T.U. at Sugar Grove Is Most Successful

The 67th annual convention of the Warren County W. C. T. U. was held in the Presbyterian church at Sugar Grove on Tuesday, with a good representation of unions of the county.

Mrs. Mabel E. Dallas, county president, was the presiding officer at all sessions, and Mrs. H. W. Sloan, of Fredonia, N. Y., the national director of religious education, was the speaker.

In the evening, her address was on "American Defense", in which she stressed "that inner life of the spirit that makes Christian character possible, and creates an influence that reaches out into the world and produces that quality which is our only defense."

Other speakers of the day were Rev. Hugh Stevenson, Tidioute, who talked on "Christian Observance of the Sabbath"; Mrs. B. F. Armstrong, on "Child Training", and the annual message of the president, which proved helpful and inspiring to all. Ministers present throughout the day were Rev. W. O. Brainard, of the Methodist church; Rev. John McCleery, Free Methodist, and Rev. Carl Perrin, of the hostess church.

Three impressive services of the day were the dedication of four little children to the temperance cause: Nancy Lou Schoonover, Eleanor Brown, Martha and Nancy Danielson, all tied with a white ribbon; the service in memory of members who had passed away since the last convention, conducted by Mrs. Melda Grady; and the consecration service when officers were elected, conducted by Mrs. Ora Johnson.

Devotional periods were in charge of Rev. Brainard, Mrs. Edith Kapp and Mrs. Harry Jennings. Miss Evelyn Norlin, of Sheffield, was the soloist and delighted with the numbers "Lassie o' Mine" and "Trees". Mrs. H. W. Sloan and Mrs. Melda White, also Mrs. Ruth Lindquist and Mrs. Beulah Krebs sang during the sessions. Accompanists were Mrs. Gladys Jamieson, Mrs. Melda White and Mrs. W. L. Nelson.

The evening banquet was served by the Sugar Grove ladies, and music during dinner hour by Misses Ardath Chandler, violinist, and Amelia Chandler, pianist, was an enjoyable feature.

The convention in 1942 will be at Warren, with the Glade Union as hostess. Officers reelected during the convention were: Mabel E. Dallas, president; Edith Kapp, vice president; Edith Stauffer, treasurer; Bessie Walters, recording secretary; Gladys Jamieson, corresponding secretary.

GRANGE GROUP HOLDS MEETING AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 25—The traveling implement case which the Grange is sponsoring was brought to Youngsvile Tuesday evening and presented before a large crowd by Mountain Grange. In the opening and closing of Grange the chairs were also filled by members of the Mountain Grange, who, after presenting the case in a ceremony in which eight people took part, presented a special program.

It was composed of two songs by Mrs. Ida Holden and Mrs. Rea Holms, ""M'o'ther's Song" and 'Whispering Hope"; recitation by Ted Albaugh; monologue by Mrs. Myrtle Meely; five boys sang, "You Are My Sunshine" and "The Cowboys' Heaven"; a reading, Autumn," was given by Mrs. D. Stoneburg, and a mandolin solo by Yvonne Stoneburg.

Dallas Brooks, 83, sang two old-fashioned numbers, one ending with a jig. Earlier in the evening Mrs. Brooks had been presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, it being her 77th birthday. The program closed with a pantomime, "Wanted, a Wife."

During the business session of the Grange three candidates were obligated in the first and second degrees so that they may take their third and fourth with a class of candidates at initiation on Oct. 14th. All persons were invited to the dining hall for lunch. The Brokenstraw Grange will take the traveling implement case with program to Pleasant Grange on October 8th.

Twelve Granges were represented by guests. Mountain Grange led the guest list with 20 present. The other Granges represented were Warren, Pleasant, Akeley, Scandia, Chandlers Valley, Spring Creek, New London, Eldred, Columbus, Watson and Corry.

ROTARY HEARS ADDRESS

The Rotary Club heard a fine address at their dinner meeting on Tuesday evening by Rev. C. M. McIntyre of the United Brethren church on the thought, "From Darkness to Light." A good program is being planned for next week's meeting.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Mead, of Erie, were guests the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Mead. Other recent guests have been Mrs. Henry Anderson, Mrs. Norris Poling, Robert and Polly Lou Poling, of Bradford; Mrs. Merle K. Mead and a friend, of Erie.

An interesting luncheon meeting of the Youngsville Woman's Relief Corps was held Tuesday at the noon hour, with Mrs. Chester Shattuck, of Warren. At this meeting it was decided to establish a flower fund.

An installation of officers will take place at the evening meeting in the Youngsville club rooms on October 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight spent the weekend on a motor trip to the southern part of the state, visiting at the home of Miss Ada Downey and Mrs. William Downey at Latrobe.

CATERPILLAR TRACKS

Installment Buying Curbs Put U. S. in the Quiz Business

BY IRVING PERLMETER

Washington, Sept. 26—(AP)—A bridge lamp is furniture but a clothes hamper is not.

This isn't double talk; it is just some of the 24-hour a day advice that's pouring out of the federal reserve board in interpreting the instalment credit regulations which began the first of this month.

While doubting that confusion over the restrictions were any more than could be expected, one sleepy-eyed official said there were still a lot of questions to be answered after he and his staff worked nights for four weeks.

The rules set minimum down payments up to one-third of an article's cost and fixed a maximum time of 18 months for paying the balance on 24 different types of merchandise.

Furniture seems to be one of the favorite question marks.

The experts have ruled that lamps, mirrors, unpainted furniture stools, kitchen and breakfast room sets, porch tables, chairs, swings, and kitchen cabinets are "furniture."

But chinaware, cooking utensils, ordinars electric fans, wall clocks, and non-electric carpet sweepers are not furniture.

Then, there's the problem of one of these new-fangled gadgets that is part radio and part bed or other furniture. The required down payment on radios is 20 percent, but only 10 percent on furniture. The board solved this one saying whichever part of the gadget cost most determined the classification. Thus a $100 bed with a built-in $15 radio is still a bed.

Another question has arisen concerning articles placed in customers' homes for, say, 90 days trial. Does the 18 month payment limit start at once or after the trial? The answer is that, as long as the customer pays nothing or promises nothing and has the right to return the goods, the trial time don't count.

P. S. The Federal Reserve Board reserves the right to change the rules at any time, but must give public notice of the alterations.

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

Chapter 16

Overboard

PAM was aware more than once of Lenore's smouldering eyes upon her. She caught a glimpse of Jerry talking to Freda. Her heart started uncomfortably. Could that be jealousy? Mrs. Winthrope had fastened Pam's violets at one end of a handsome scarf that was part of the black dress she wore. Pam was delighted. Mrs. Winthrope must really be pleased with the gift.

Then Leo was dancing with her again.

"You've never been quite as lovely as you are tonight," he said. She still wore his roses at her shoulder. "I'm beginning to think I've been laggard to my own loss. Have I, Pam?"

"I don't know what you mean, Leo." They were standing beside the rail now, looking out over the silvered water.

"Yes, you do, Pam. Am I too late? Have I let things go too long? Have I been too slow in asking you for a definite answer? And yet if it means your happiness—" His words were interrupted by one of the ship's officers.

"Beg pardon, sir, but you're wanted on the gangplank. Someone from the hospital. Says it's important, to please hurry."

Leo turned hastily to Pam, touched her hand for a fleeting moment:

"There was a critical case. One I operated on this afternoon." His words were clipped and earnest. "That's the worst of being a doctor. Right in the middle of a proposal! Pam, I'll come back if I can, but I probably can't."

"I'll hold everything until you do!" She patted his shoulder as he turned. "It's swell to see someone who feels his duty and goes to perform it."

At the gangplank Jerry, who had seen the messenger come to the boat, waited for Leo. He liked the young doctor.

"I'm leaving her in your care," Leo said hurriedly. "I expect you to make a job of seeing that she has a good time and gets home safely."

Jerry knew without being told that he referred to Pam. He knew too that Leo meant that she must be protected from Lenore's cruel jibes.

"As if anyone has to ask me that!" he said. "Come back if you can, Leo."

Jerry went back then and claimed Pam. Pam asked him to get her marigolds from the ice box, a little sorry that she must make the change after Leo had gone.

"Don't be offended, Jerry," she said. "I didn't know Leo would be called away, and I do want to wear your flowers."

"I know. I'm glad they pleased you—that's all I ask."

"They're one of the sweetest thoughts I've ever known, Jerry. Thank you so much."

He paused to look at her, then went and got the flowers, sweet and velvety and cool. Pam went to the powder room to fasten them in place. She put the roses she had been wearing in a small vase she found there. Freda came in just as she was making the change.

Push From Lenore

"SUCH popularity! I think you're the only girl here who got two corsages. As a matter of fact, I didn't get any! May I have one?" Her fingers were at the stem of one of the roses.

"Oh, surely! I know Leo would feel honored," Pam said as Freda fastened the rosebud in her hair.

"From Leo? Then I'm all the more flattered to wear it. He's got stuff, that lad."

"Yes, Leo is a real person."

Freda turned to her sharply. "You haven't got the Indian sign on him, too, I hope?" she asked. "Now that I'm bereft of Jerry, I've been casting about and had just about settled on Leo as worthy of my gifts."

"Here's luck!" Pam laughed. "May the best girl win!"

"My dear"—Freda was suddenly serious—"then I wouldn't have the ghost of a chance. I mean that. I think Jerry's lucky to have been able to trade a bored post-debutante in for a fresh and interesting island flower."

And then Freda was gone with a lad who had claimed her with a gay meeting and drew her into an intricate dance step.

Lenore, passing, paused to stare insolently at Pam. She noted the changed corsage and new flames of displeasure lighted in her eyes. Pam smiled maddenly at her.

"Yes," she said, as she lifted her shoulder slightly "from Jerry. The roses were from Leo."

"Come on, honey bee." Jerry was beside her again as if by magic, drawing her away from any opportunity to hear a reply that Lenore might have made. "I need a drink and you look as if you could do with one."

They moved toward the bar, where, without even asking her, Jerry ordered a very fancy and glorified orange juice for Pam. Blaze had trailed them and stood beside Jerry, unmindful, in her quiet dignity, of the constant movement about her.

Lenore, still smouldering, came alongside of them. She looked at Pam with scornful eyes, swept the girl from head to toe.

"Every time I move, must I be confronted with you and your Conch companion?" she asked of Jerry.

"Please remember Mother invited Pam here, Lenore," Jerry replied.

"Because she's foolish enough to want to please you! Why you have to bring all of your stupid flirtations to the attention of the whole world!"

"That's just the difference"—there was a peculiar intenseness in Jerry's voice—"between you and me. I mean what I'm doing, and have nothing to keep under cover! And now you'd better shut up, if you know what's good for you. I don't want to get rough with you, Lenore, but I will if I have to."

Pam, meanwhile, had been sipping her drink as if she hadn't heard, and something about her calm indifference angered Lenore. Glass in hand, Lenore swaggered around to Pam's side.

"I can imagine the story of where you get your clothes would make good reading," she said. "Making flowers and hats doesn't pay for the sort of things you wear. I dare you to tell who does!"

Pam turned sharply. There were no words, she felt, that could answer that. Her hand rose swiftly and lay for an instant against Lenore's cheek. Lenore shrieked.

"She struck me!" Her voice was high and wild. "That little rat hit me!" She lunged at Pam, who had turned and walked from the brawl.

"Soft-pedal it, Lenore!" It was Freda's voice, firm with authority. "You asked for it!" But Lenore seemed to get only the wilder at Freda's words. She rushed at Pam again.

Pam, much the smaller, turned and, to protect herself, gripped the rail, her heels hooked into the lower one. She was caught in Lenore's rush and somehow unbalanced. There was a stifled scream, a flash of green, pale and dim in the moonlight, and then a splash of water.

"Three Go Over"

"SHE'S overboard!" It was Jerry's voice, husky with alarm.

"Someone overboard!" The cry went round the boat. And then in still more panic: "Sharks! There are sharks in that water and barracuda. Oh, Jerry's over! Jerry!"

"Jerry! Jerry!" It was Mrs. Winthrope at the rail. Bart Winthrope, too, had joined the group, and other guests were disjointly trying to explain what had happened.

"Jerry's a good swimmer," Bart Winthrope announced, "but what about the girl?"

"Pam can do anything," a voice replied.

"I did it, and I'm glad of it!" Lenore exclaimed. "Better a shark or a barracuda gets him than a beach girl!"

"Lenore!"

Pam, swimming through the pleasantly warm water, heard the girl's name in sharp rebuke from Mrs. Winthrope. Rebuke and alarm. She had heard, too, Jerry's quick dive and knew that he was following her.

"You've done nothing to boast of, Lenore, I'd keep quiet, if I were you." It was spoken in a stern tone. Voices carried so over water. Pam could hear much of what was said against the confusion of sound made by the lesser actors in the scene.

And then she heard something that paralyzed her with fright. A third body had plunged into the water. She knew instinctively by the way it struck the water that it had been Blaze. If there were sharks or barracuda near, Blaze would be the victim. Human beings were often let alone, but dogs were seemingly a favorite prey.

"The searchlight!" someone cried. "Turn the light on them. Lower a boat!"

Pam was grateful for the light. She swam easily and expertly. She turned and looked and finally saw the dog's head coming toward her.

"Blaze!" she commanded. "Come here, Blaze!"

The animal was making headway toward her. As soon as they were within reach of each other, Pam grasped Blaze's collar and pulled her along, swimming with all the speed she was capable of. Vaguely, she heard Jerry's voice calling her.

"Why, she's got Blaze!" someone shouted in amazement as the light picked them out.

Blaze, seeming to understand, swam with all her might beside Pam and actually, as Pam tired slightly, helped the girl. Pam had known it would just be a matter of getting Blaze started in the right direction, so she would not swim out to sea.

Finally they were at the lower platform of the dock. There was a ladder there for swimmers to climb up, though very few people ever used it. They were not encouraged to swim there.

Pam clung to it and managed to push Blaze up. Blaze's instinctive fear of open slats made the thing difficult at first, but she grasped the idea, and climbed carefully. Pam was laughing as she climbed the ladder which led to the platform. Jerry, breathless, was immediately behind her.

FIRST PENNANT IN 21 YEARS UNFURLED OVER FLATBUSH

BROOKS ENTER FLAGTOWN WITH VICTORY OVER BOSTON BRAVES; GAS HOUSERS CHASED BY BUCS

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers, long the clown princes of baseball, are the new kings of the National League. Long live the kings!

The kids from Kings county, New York (the same as the borough of Brooklyn to everybody except the district attorney) came through in royal glory at Boston with a 6-0 conquest of the Braves yesterday and clinched their first pennant in 21 years.

The St. Louis Cardinals cooperated by losing a 3-1 decision at Pittsburgh to bring the most strenuous championship struggle in recent years to a sudden stop.

As a result of the victory and defeat, the Redbirds were left 2½ games behind the Dodgers with each club having two games left to play.

	W.	L.	Pct.	Gbl.	Gtp.
Brooklyn	99	53	.651	----	2
St. Louis	96	55	.636	2½	2

Somehow the session at Boston, perfectly played on the part of the Dodgers, seemed like an anticlimax. The Bums had had to battle for every inch in their furious, often frantic, foray against the western clubs of the league and even against the lowly Phillies.

In Boston yesterday they knew they were in and were just marking time.

Whitlow Wyatt, their baldish pitching ace, produced a masterful five-hit performance to achieve his seventh shutout and 22nd victory of the season. His teammates loosed a vigorous offensive which young Pete Reiser climaxed with a two-run seventh-inning homer. The game had been nailed down, however, when Brooklyn bagged one run in each of the first three innings.

Max Butcher, a big West Virginia mountaineer once a Dodger, took care of crimping the Cardinals. He held the Cards to five hits, their only run was forced in with a walk. The Pirates plastered Ernie White with defeat through Rookie Bill Cox' triple for a run in the third and Elbie Fletcher's homer with one on in the sixth.

Both clubs have open dates today—time for the Dodgers to celebrate and for the Cardinals to lick their wounds. Tomorrow and Sunday the Cards clash again with the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers finish against the Phils.

As many of the Brooklyn regulars as possible will be rested for the opening of the World Series with the New York Yankees next Wednesday.

In the other games yesterday the Cincinnati Reds stormed to a 6-0 decision over the Cubs and the New York Giants squeezed out a 3-2 victory over the Phillies. Cincinnati's win came on the two-hit hurling of Rookie Ray Starr.

All clubs in the American League were idle.

WORLD SERIES SLATE

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—Clinching of the National League pennant by the Brooklyn Dodgers will allow the World Series to be reeled off without any time out for travel.

The schedule as announced by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis:

Oct. 1 and 2 at Yankee Stadium.

Oct. 3, 4 and 5 at Ebbets Field.

Oct. 6 and 8 at Yankee Stadium.

The one-day intermission after the sixth game is to allow time for distribution of tickets for the seventh contest, if the series goes the limit.

All games will start at 1:30 p. m. (EST).

BY JUDSON BAILEY

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—Brooklyn went batty over its new National League pennant today, but nobody was nearly as delirious as the Dodgers themselves.

During the four hours it took their special train to make the trip home from Boston last night they steamed up the greatest celebration any baseball team ever has had for the clinching of a championship.

President Larry MacPhail, who had remained here to pass out World Series tickets, stocked the homecoming train with champagne.

The wheels had hardly started rolling before the corks started popping—and by the time the effervescent entourage pulled into Grand Central station a little before midnight the Dodgers were hilarious and the train was a wreck.

Somebody thought it would be a grand idea to rip the shirt off Coach Charley Dressen and before his chummy companions were finished they had him almost in the nude. Then they started on each other and more shirts were ripped to pieces within a few minutes than a laundry could do in 10 years.

Peewee Reese and Pistol Pete Reiser prowled up and down the aisles squirting everybody with champagne, until the kids were tipped off that that was something to drink. Then they turned to shampooing the porters and waiters with creamed spinach.

This went on for hours and for miles and miles—but you get the general idea.

It was the unbelievable end to an unimaginable tour that lasted for two weeks and was more like a traveling circus than a ball club on a business trip.

The Dodgers went west September 8 in a streamlined special train, with every player having a room to himself.

As they rolled around the country they picked up a curious collection of followers. For the past several days of their trip the party included, besides a score of newspapermen and photographers, one Brooklyn undertaker and two assistants, two bookmakers, a well-known brain specialist, Tony Martin, the screen and radio singer, wives of several players and the child of one, and various deep-eyed Flatbush fans.

The whole gang stepped off the train headlong into a worshipful welcome from some 7,000 fans who packed Grand Central Terminal for a glimpse of the conquering heroes.

But the person who started it all, who assembled the Championship ball club and paid for the champagne, was the great forgotten man.

MacPhail had taken a long taxi ride uptown to board the train. But it went roaring past to the climax of a great celebration and the redhead just stood there fuming on the platform.

SPORTS FIGURE DIES

Joseph E. Hart, 38, well known Erie sports figure and football official, died in Hamot hospital at 1:15 a. m. Tuesday after suffering an attack of pneumonia. The deceased had officiated at scores of football games during the past 15 years. At the time of his death he was employed as a machinery salesman. Hart was stricken ill a week ago last Sunday. His condition gradually became worse and it was necessary to remove him to Hamot hospital last Saturday afternoon.

TALBOT LIKES NOVA IN TITLE CLASH MONDAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Sept. 26—(AP)—Looking back on Joe Louis' fights and recalling the ferocity with which he has torn into the big fellows he could hit easily, it takes a lot of will power to pick Lou Nova to win the heavyweight crown from the big negro.

There is the additional hazard that most 'professionals" of the fight game—the men who undoubtedly know the business best—are stringing along with the Bomber.

A score of managers, trainers and promoters encountered yesterday at Nova's camp virtually were unanimous in believing that the champion would belt Nova out inside of 10 rounds when they meet Monday night at the Polo Grounds.

But the writer happens to have had a hunch for a long time that Nova was the one fighter with the physical equipment and the heart required to whip Louis, and there is no sense in backing down now. Maybe he won't, and maybe he will be only another heartbroken heavyweight after he has sampled the Louis dynamite, but it will be after a terrible fight. That much is certain.

In his final workout yesterday, Nova probably looked better than anybody ever saw him. He is as ready as a fighter possibly can be and is punching harder than ever before. He still is absolutely convinced he has the title in his grasp. He is by far the most confident man Louis ever faced, barring Max Schmeling.

Lou has been underrated as a puncher. He laid a right on Jim Neville's jaw yesterday that almost floored the heavyweight, and Trainer Ray Arcel had to go between them until Neville recovered. His left frequently jarred and staggered both men he worked with.

Not that he can hit like Louis does, but who can? The principal thing is that Nova can take it. Louis will clout him many a time, probably will have him on the floor not long after the bell rings. But the surest thing in the world is that Nova will get up. And he is trained to travel for 15 rounds at the only pace he knows. Joe, to repeat, has not fought a man like that. He might not like it.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

SUBWAY SERIES CAN'T MISS BEING AN INTERESTING ONE; KEEP MARTY SERVO IN MIND AS LIGHTWEIGHT CONTENDER

Well, the Dodgers are in, the Cardinals (and this agent) out, and now all that's left is the breeze which will blow from the Yankee hits as the Bronx Bombers battle the Beautiful Brooklyn Bums in the World Series starting next Wednesday. Nothing can be taken away from the grand baseball outfit under the guidance of Leo the Lip, a team which has brought Flatbush its first pennant in 21 years, and no one is trying to take anything from them any longer since the Cards' effort to cop the pennant from Ebbets Field was futile. This corner offers no alibis for the Redbirds, though we would have liked to have seen them beaten with every regular in the lineup throughout the entire season, as was the case for Brooklyn. No better opposition could be found for the Yankees than MacPhail's knights of the diamond, and if any ball club can scare the Yanks, it'll be those unpredictable Brooks. Yet, hoping to cash in on one baseball prediction before the season can be found only in the record books, this corner peeks into the sporto-scope and takes the McCarthymen in five games.

Marty Servo served an elegant dish of leather to Ray (Sugar) Robinson last night before he bowed to the Negro, and the colored youngster who doesn't remind his opponents of his nick name when in the ring, had all he could do to win a split decision over the fast charging, hard punching Italian boy from Schenectady, N. Y. Servo, a first cousin of Former Lightweight King Lou Ambers, one of the finest little men ever to enter a ring to exhibit the manly art of modified murder, has a first-class trainer and second in Herkimer Lou who is teaching the kid what to do and when to do it. And Servo's showing against the highly touted Robinson was much more impressive than was Ray's victory. Both were undefeated before the scrap, but Servo was the underdog in the minds of a majority of experts and the betting fraternity. Robinson, a finished boxer with a bolo punch in his right glove that brings a serenade from the birdies, knew he had been in quite a battle after trying to keep pace with the bobbing, weaving little man who just kept punching and stayed out of the way of Robinson's dynamite. The verdict was booed by the ringsiders, and this corner, only a radio-side fan, nevertheless rates Servo just as good a chance to get to the top as Ray, and just as quickly as the Harlem Candy Stick. A return match will be a "natural."

Quickies . . . While we're not on the Nova bandwagon, isn't it strange how he's followed a long line of challengers who could only get one person to listen to their side of the argument in respective title quests, and that person their manager . . . Writers say Nova's punch isn't hard enough to put the skids under Joe, nor is Yogi Lou fast enough . . . They're expecting a lot from Higbe and Wyatt now when the series gets here because of their season records . . . Take a tip from this corner, don't be surprised if both of them are beaten in their efforts . . . Higbe will probably think he's back with the Phils when the Yanks get an advantage on him that the Brooks can't overtake . . . They're calling the Cards the team that rookies built, and here's a hand to a swell crew, and to the greatest personality among today's major league managers, Billy Southworth, the man whose heart was so big that every Redbird fought his heart out for the soft spoken pilot . . . And the Yanks come out and admit they feel they got the softer touch in getting Brooklyn instead of St. Louis as their series opponent . . . Well, that's some consolation . . .

Last Night's Bouts

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia—Ray (Sugar) Robinson, 141, New York, outpointed Marty Servo, 139½, Schenectady, N. Y. (10).

New Haven, Conn.—Aldo Spoldi, 140½, Italy, stopped Carl (Red) Gugino, 139½, Hartford (7).

Indianapolis—Johnny Denson, 185, Indianapolis, stopped Lee Oma, 202, Detroit (4).

Montreal, Canada—Dave Castilloux, 134¾, Montreal, outpointed Harry Hurst, 134, Montreal (10).

Highland Park, N. J.—Charlie Rausch, 159, New Brunswick, N. J., outpointed Larry Kellum, 160, Perth Amboy, N. J. (8).

Robinson Wins Close Decision Over Servo

Philadelphia, Sept. 26—(AP)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson, who many persons believe will be the next lightweight champion, is still undefeated as a professional, but his most recent victim, Marty Servo, almost turned the tables.

The Brooklyn Negro and Servo, also unbeaten, battled through 10 rounds before 10,000 at Convention Hall last night before Robinson won the decision.

That in itself was a moral victory for Servo, of Schenectady, N. Y., for Robinson has been knocking out his opponents with regularity. In fact, Servo, a pre-fight 5 to 1 underdog, took everything Robinson had to offer and the negro got the nod only by coming from behind in the last two rounds.

It was Robinson's 25th consecutive triumph while Servo had his first loss in 46 bouts.

Little World Series Gets Started Tonight

Montreal, Sept. 26—(AP)—The Montreal Royals, International League farm of the Brooklyn Dodgers, newly crowned champions of the National League, carry the family banner into action tonight against Columbus Red Birds in the opening game of the "Little World Series."

The Royals were runners-up to the Newark Bears during the regular season, but earned the right to meet Columbus, American Association pennant winner and playoff champions, by edging out the Bears, four games to three in the final playoff series.

Columbus is a farm team of the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn's chief rival all season, so when the Red Birds and the Royals meet tonight it will be a renewal on a small scale of the feud between the major league clubs.

BLUE AND WHITE CHARGES ARE FAVORED TO TAKE THIRD IN ROW IN ENCOUNTER AT TITUSVILLE

Coach J. B. "Jake" Leidig's charges are all ready to invade Titusville tomorrow afternoon in quest of their fourth successive gridiron victory of the season, and the Warren High Dragons will enter the fray heavy favorites to gain their objective.

With heavy drills the early part of this week and lighter sessions yesterday and this afternoon, the local schoolboys are in top shape to battle the Rockets and repeat their 19-0 triumph at the expense of the Brown and Gold on Russell Field last year.

With a dazzling offensive and an air tight defense, the confident Blue and White aggregation plans to get the jump on their foes, build up a comfortable lead, and protect it through the remainder of the battle.

Highly successful in this plan against Kane High's Wolves last week here, the Leidigmen should be able to repeat the feat over what shapes up to be a weaker squad than even Kane's inexperienced grid machine.

It is expected, however, that the Rockets will resort to every grid trick they have been taught in an effort to offset the advantage which will be taken into the game by the Dragons in regard to weight and power.

The Warren lineup is expected to be the same as last week, with Ted Black and Adams at the wings; Frank Peterson and Keith Patchen, tackles; Tony Marasco and Ken Patchen, guards; Leon Christiansen, center; Bob Sedon at quarterback; Don Sharp and Lloyd Dickerson at the halves; and hard-hitting Albert Salerno, at the fullback post.

Local followers of the Dragons planning to make the trip to Titusville are reminded that the kickoff is slated for 2:30 o'clock daylight saving time.

Red Jackets May Expect Strong Opposition From Springdale A. A. In Third Game Of Season Sunday

Making doubly sure that reserve strength won't have another opportunity to go hand in hand with breaks to beat the Springdale A. A. this year when they tangle with the Red Jackets Sunday, the visitors have a mobilized unit of no less than 27 players coming here with the intentions of "blitzing" the western Pennsylvania semi-pro champions and going home with a claim to the title.

While officially the crown will not be at stake, any sectional team that has the fortune of coming out of a game with the Jackets on the long end of the score this year, naturally will stake a claim to the honors.

Of last year's team, which gave the locals a real ball game until the fading minutes of the final chapter, fifteen players are on this year's Springdale roster, including all eleven gridders in their starting lineup.

The strong and reputable Pittsburgh team, former tri-state champions, have added weight to their system of unity in composing a mightier outfit this season than they have boasted in recent years, every man on the aggregation capable of playing sixty minutes of sound and worthy football.

Such veterans as the Howells brothers, Lafferty, Lelis and Hominac will be found in the starting backfield, while Killian, Eckebarger, Hensel and Cooper, some of the most stubborn gridders ever to play in the forward wall of sectional semi-pro grid teams, will be on hand and ready to give the many fans more than just a good show, but also a complete test of Red Jacket power this season.

As for the locals, Coaches Reese and Paris plan to do a little experimenting with the lineup, starting this weekend and continuing into next week. The local line is their main problem, and its condition as to effectiveness must be straightened out, but quickly, if the champs want to be called by that name at the end of the current campaign.

Sunday's contest will start at 2:30 p. m. eastern standard time, with popular prices reigning at the gates. Pine Johnson will do the refereeing according to present plans, with Gerry Peterson, popular local young official, umpire, and Louis Brown, of Jamestown as is Johnson, head linesman.

PLANE EXHIBITED

A captured yellow-nosed German Messerschmitt 169 fighting plane, which downed five Allied planes before it was shot down in a night raid over London, and which was smuggled under convoy to America, is on exhibition in East Perry Square at Erie, for three days. The exhibition is sponsored by the Erie chapter of Bundles for Britain. It is being shown in a tent and admission is charged.

Steel armour for protection of soldiers against bullets was used in the 17th century but finally was abandoned because the weight added for protection against improved bullets made it impractical.

ARLISS NEGLECTS TO REGISTER SECURITIES

London, Sept. 26—(AP)—George Arliss, veteran English stage and screen star, was fined £4,500 (about $18,000) today after pleading guilty "subject to mitigating circumstances" to a charge of neglecting to register United States and Canadian securities with the Bank of England.

In addition Arliss, who appeared in court to "repudiate the charges while technically pleading guilty, also was fined ten guineas (about $42 costs).

Arliss was charged with failing to register securities valued at £13,160 (about $52,000), and the crown prosecutor, F. D. Barry, had declared the actor was liable to a fine of £39,480 (about $158,000).

WINDSORS LEAVE FOR RANCH NEAR CALGARY

Washington, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor arranged a new round of official calls today before leaving for a vacation on his Canadian ranch with his American-born duchess.

Washingtonians received the famous pair with enthusiasm. Everywhere they went, peering, cheering crowds gathered. Government clerks hung precariously from windows and building ledges to see them; pretty girls showered the duke with confetti; police battled crowds in corridors when the duke entered government buildings.

The titled couple planned to leave by train (1:50 p. m., EST) for the duke's ranch near Calgary, Alberta.

BOOTLEG MINERS ASK TO BE GIVEN JOBS

Harrisburg, Sept. 26—(AP)—A delegation of bootleg anthracite demanded today that free lance miners, calling on state officials, members be given jobs in legitimate workings before their makeshift holes are dynamited shut.

The demand was voiced to the state department of mines and was immediately referred by Secretary Richard Maize to the anthracite emergency committee.

Under the committee's orders, four bootleg holes in Schuylkill and Northumberland counties were sealed this week.

Clarendon

Clarendon, Sept. 20—The members of the choir of the Methodist church held a farewell party for two of their members—Earl Campbell and Mary Jane McCool last Monday evening in the church parlors. Several reels of pictures were shown by Edmund Bimber. Games were played and a delicious lunch served. The evening was concluded with a handkerchief shower for these two young folks who left later in the week. Earl for college at Houghton, N. Y., and Mary Jane at DuBois.

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN CHURCH SCHOOL

Much general interest has been manifested in the seven schools of weekday religious education planned by religious and educational leaders of the community, and today announcement is made of the personnel in charge of the classes.

The schools, their location, enrollment and instructors are as follows:

First Lutheran—St. Paul's Lutheran at the former, 174 enrolled, Rev. Edward K. Rogers and Rev. Bertil Edquist, pastors.

Tiphereth Israel Congregation, in the synagogue with six enrolled, Dr. Hans Kronheim.

Church of the Nazarene—Free Methodist, at the Nazarene church with 71 enrolled, Mrs. Harry Cowles and Mrs. Robert Shoff, the latter of Corydon.

First Evangelical, in its own sanctuary with 21 enrolled, Rev. J. C. Wygant.

Holy Redeemer Roman Catholic, in its own sanctuary with 99 enrolled, Father M. E. Dailey.

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic, in the parochial school with 162 enrolled, Father Edward Jacobs, dean; Sisters M. Baptiste, Marie Therese, M. Bernardine and M. Pancratia.

Warren Community Protestant School, with 616 enrolled from Calvary Baptist, Bethlehem Congregational, Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed, Epworth Methodist, First Baptist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Grace Methodist, Salem Evangelical, Salvation Army, Trinity Memorial Episcopal and United Brethren. Freshmen and sophomores are at the First Presbyterian, juniors and seniors at First Methodist.

Dr. Thomas E. Colley is dean for the First Methodist classes. Instructors for 121 in senor classes are Mrs. O. A. Pressel, R. W. Reynolds, S. R. Schieb and Mrs. Ralph Sires; juniors, with 145, Mrs. Guy Cochran, Mrs. John G. Rossman, Jr., Mrs. John H. Stewart, Rev. John Bengtson, Rev. Arthur Sennewald and Rev. J. A. Davidson.

Dean at the First Presbyterian is Charles DeFrees, with Mary Craft and Mrs. H. P. Stone assisting. Sophomores have an enrollment of 152, with Mrs. Melvin Keller, Mrs. Clark Swift, Dorothy Schmidt, Mrs. R. W. Mackay, Mrs. B. J. Messerly and Mrs. B. F. Armstrong as teachers; freshmen, 198, and the following as instructors: Mrs. W. C. Sigworth, T. E. Eppley, Mrs. Kahle, Mrs. H. L. Overturf, Mrs. Althea Correll, Mrs. S. M. McClure and Mary Craft.

Interesting Figures Concerning Y. W. C. A. Activities Presented

As the time approaches for the opening of the Y. W. C. A. Emancipation Campaign on Oct. 13, the work and place of the association in the community is being discussed more widely each day. As an aid to those who are endeavoring seriously and open-mindedly to determine the measure of civic responsibility which attaches to them as prospective contributors, a few facts gleaned from the Y. W. C. A. records should be of interest.

During the past season, there was an enrollment of 173 in the High School Girls' Club, with an attendance of 3,201. In the grade schools, the Girl Reserves had an enrollment of 301 and an attendance of 6,026. Three Business Girls' Clubs had an enrollment of 91, with 1,564 attendance. Religious, educational and recreational activities totaled 6,596 attendance.

As indicative of the extent to which the activities building is used as a community center, the impressive figure of 16,303 represents the attendance at meetings of various groups not a part of the regular Y. W. C. A. program activities.

There was an enrollment of 106 in the local Y. W. C. A. Girls' Camp during the past summer, and on one Sunday alone there were 207 visitors at the camp.

The employment bureau, which makes no charge whatsoever, found positions for 162 girls and women. When in addition the discovery is made that 16 received traveler's aid, 46 were given lodging without charge, and 63 free meals were served, one is inclined to believe that our local Y. W. C. A. is really seeking to realize "in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians."

KIDDIE CAPE AND FROCK

Pattern 4715

By Anne Adams

What's news for tiny tots? Anne Adams says—a frock with its own cape, like Pattern 4715! This original design is a whole wardrobe in itself for any fashion-wise tiny miss. The princess dress has the side panels back and front cut on the bias for perfect fit and for an interesting effect when checked or striped fabric is used. Add the belt if you like. The top-stitched yokes are square necked with a button closing at the back. Both yokes and sleeves may be made of contrasting fabric, and there's optional, dainty lace edging at the neck and short puffed sleeves. The simply cut contrasting cape has only three pattern pieces. Both cape and dress are quickly made with the Sewing Instructor.

Pattern 4715 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, cape, takes 1¼ yards 54 inch fabric and dress, 2¼ yards 35 inch fabric.

SECURITY BOARD REPRESENTATIVE COMING MONDAY

A representative of the Erie field office of the Social Security Board will make his regularly scheduled visit to Warren on September 29th, it was announced today by Bernard A. Farabaugh, manager.

Office hours will be held in the State Employment office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. for the convenience of residents of Warren and vicinity.

The representative will give information and assist employers and employees or other interested persons on any matters pertaining to the Social Security Act. New employers may file application with him for employer's identification numbers and employees for social security account numbers.

Wage earners who are sixty-five or older and wish to retire, and the widows and families of wage earners who have died, are invited to call for information and assistance in filing claims for social security payments.

Mr. Farabaugh stated that this part time office service is maintained regularly in Warren every Monday. The next date will be October 6th.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
Times-Mirror—

Twenty-four years ago next May nine ships, the U. S. S. Aroostock, Quinnebaug, Saranac, Housatonic, Canonicus, Shawmut, Roanoke, Canadaigua, and Baltimore had a rendezvous at Invergordon (base 17) and Inverness (base 18) with their flagship the U. S. San Francisco. The meeting took place on May 27th, 1918.

This collection of ships, all Atlantic Coast banana ships or pleasure ships, left the United States from different points after being reconditioned and became known as the Suicide Fleet. In reality it was Atlantic Mine Squadron Number One.

Every one of the personnel realized the danger of their mission and never expected to return to this country alive because if one ship was hit by a shell or a torpedo it would have destroyed the whole fleet. Nevertheless the fleet completed their operations by making thirteen excursions into the North Sea to plant 56,571 of 57,470 mines planted during the World War by the United States Navy. They completed the greatest engineering feat ever attempted so thoroughly that it completely bottled up the German fleet and their submarines.

During these operations the personnel of the fleet numbered about 4,500 officers and men, including the men at Base 17 and 18. Since that time a good many have passed on, others have continued serving our country in the U. S. Navy and still others are back in private life raising families.

No doubt there are some men of this fleet of twenty-four years ago who would like to contact some old shipmates and talk over old times. For this reason The North Sea Mine Force Association was formed. This Association is comprised of all who took part in the assembling of mines in Scotland, the crew of the minelayers and the crew of the minesweepers.

The Association meets once a year, prints a roster of its membership for its members and publishes a magazine of interest to its crew. The dues are $1.00 per year and is a non-profit organization. Any eligible men are requested to contact Shipmate H. G. Cragg, of Corry, Pennsylvania.

Two pages in the current issue of the "Telephone News," journal of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, carry photographs of the 40-mile cable job from Kane to DuBois, final link in a storm-resisting network between Pittsburgh and the New York state line. During the past few months a new right-of-way was cleared, 717 poles set and 211,035 feet of cable pulled through this stretch of country to replace 857 circuit miles of open wire. Long-span construction was used with poles averaging 310 feet apart. The cable will be placed under gas pressure when put in service this fall. The estimated gross cost on the big job is $231,000, or slightly more than a dollar per foot of cable pulled.

HOME OF CHESS

More than 900 years ago, the game of chess was introduced to the town of Strobeck, Germany, by the count of Gungelin. Strobeck has since been known as "the home of chess."

Four times as much crude oil is processed and nine times as much motor fuel is made now in the United States as in 1917, the year the country entered the World War.
